SOVIET TROOPS INVADE POLAND

NAZIS TURNING TO WESTERN FRONT

GERMANS INTIMATE AIR FORCE WILL BE USED WEST FRONT

GERMAN COMMUNNIQUE DECLARES EASTERN JOB AIRMEN BEEN COMPLETED

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Intimations the German air force soon may take a hand in the fighting on the western front were contained for the first time in today's communique of the supreme command.

It said the air force regarded its work in the east virtually ended and now was ready for tasks elsewhere. Berlin citizens yesterday and today observed members of the air force from the east arriving in the capital.

The German communique again emphasized complete dissolution of Polish forces by an encirclement movement.

The situation in Warsaw, Polish capital, was left unanswered. The communique merely said no Polish negotiator had appeared by last midnight although Warsaw had asked for his reception.

Authoritative sources, however, said threatened bombardment of the city had not begun.

The fate of Lwow, capital of the Polish Ukraine, 225 miles southeast of Warsaw, seemed sealed after its complete encirclement and after Lublin, about midway of the Warsaw-Lwow road, and been captured, Germans said.

One-fourth of the Polish army, the communique claimed, faced destruction or dissolution in a narrow compressed space southwest of Wyszogrod, which is about 40 miles west of Warsaw.

The communique described the western front as quiet except that one French plane was shot down.

With the German military machine on the west, and the vast Soviet Russian army on the east, placing Poland in a mighty vise, authoritative sources here intimated they had information of an outbreak of civil war in Warsaw. They said one group was desirous of capitulating and another was determined to fight.

German-Russian Conferences.

Authoritative sources declared they were unable to say anything about German-Russian conferences reported as scheduled for Brest-Litovsk.

All expectant mothers were removed from Aachen on the western front in first or second class train compartments, informed sources revealed. Hospital patients also have been removed farther inland in order to accommodate soldiers in the event the western campaign assumes larger proportions.

It was denied, however, that Aachen generally has been deserted by civilians, although preparations have been made to do so if the need arises.

Meanwhile German forces continue their drive to the southeast. The high command announced opposition was crumbling and that defeated and shattered remnants of the Polish army were in virtual dissolution.

Nazi troops were reported advancing both north and south of Lwow (Lemberg), capital of the Polish Ukraine.

That no new action had been reported around Warsaw since submission of a German ultimatum demanding surrender of the capital was taken in Berlin as an indication negotiations for capitulation were under way.

The Berlin radio, in dramatic

BRITISH AIRCRAFT CARRIER SUNK BY ENEMY SUBMARINE

ADMIRALTY ANNOUNCES THE LOSS OF COURAGEOUS BUT DETAILS NOT ANNOUNCED

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The British aircraft carrier Courageous has been "lost by submarine action," the admiralty announced today.

It said survivors had been picked up by destroyers and merchant ships which were bringing the rescued to land.

(Jane's fighting ships lists the Courageous as a 22,500-ton warship launched February 5, 1916. Her complement was 1,216, including royal airforce personnel, and she could carry 48 aircraft.)

The admiralty said the enemy submarine was hotly attacked by destroyers and was believed to have been sunk..

The Courageous was on service with the reserve fleet and was carrying a "reduced complement" of planes, the admiralty said. She joined the reserve fleet last August.

The vessel, it added, had "been performing very good service protecting ships of the merchant service."

The announcement did not say where the loss occurred.

The Courageous was the first British warship officially reported lost since the beginning of the war.

The 22,500-ton vessel had a normal complement of 48 airplanes. She mounted 16 4.7-inch guns, four three-pounders and 17 smaller pieces.

She was the oldest of the six aircraft carriers in the British navy. Four others are due for completion next year.

Aircraft carriers left in the navy are the Ark Royal; the Glorious—a sistership of the Courageous; the Furious; the Eagle; and the Hermaes.

POLAND SUFFERS ANOTHER INVASION ON EASTERN BORDER

RUSSIAN ARMY POURING INTO STRICKEN COUNTRY AND TOWNS ARE CAPTURED

By LLOYD LEHRBAS.

CERNAUTI, Rumania, Sept. 18.—(AP)—It was reported here today the Russian army, striking swiftly since its entry into Poland yesterday, now held the Polish-Rumanian border towns of Zaleszczyki and Sniatyn and was closing in on Kuty.

(Zaleszczyki and Kuty are about 40 miles apart; Sniatyn is about midway between them on a line running southwest.)

Germans in their eastward drive still were reported more than 50 kilometers (about 31 miles) from Kuty. Foreign circles considered it likely the Soviet divisions would seek to sweep the entire length of the Polish-Rumanian frontier and meet the Germans on the Polish-Hungarian border.

Battered remnants of the Polish army fled headlong across the Rumanian frontier, barely escaping the advancing Russian troops. President Ignace Moscicki, Foreign Minister Jozef Beck, other members of the government and the Polish general staff had reached here earlier.

Tanks, planes and artillery as well as hundreds of Polish soldiers were said to have surrendered to the Red army. More than 250 planes had landed in Rumania, many of the crewmen wounded.

Two planes of undetermined nationality were reported to have dropped incendiary bombs on Criscatec, Rumanian border town which already was suffering from a similar raid of last night when a sugar refinery was set fire. Eight peasant homes were destroyed and six persons were killed in the second attack, advices reaching here said.

Killed in Border Town.

Four were killed by bombs at another Rumanian border town—Kotringeni—Rumanian dispatches reported.

Moscicki and Beck were in virtual custody of Rumanian authorities who denied them permission to confer with other diplomats here. It was believed the Polish officials would leave shortly for Paris.

SADLER FAVORABLE TO ABOLISHING OF TWO-DAY CLOSEDOWN

MEMBER RAILROAD COMMISSION DECLARES IT WOULD REALLY REDUCE OUTPUT

AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Jerry Sadler, member of the state railroad commission, said today he would recommend to the commission that Saturday and Sunday closings of Texas oil wells long in effect be lifted immediately except for the East Texas field.

The top allowables would remain unchanged, however, and because exemptions of many wells from the two-day closings would be eliminated, the net effect, Sadler asserted, would be a sharp reduction in Texas' petroleum production.

By revising well allowables schedules to conform strictly to actual production and abolishing special allowables for new fields, additional slashes in production would be brought about immediately, Sadler continued.

If the commission adopted his shutdown proposal, he said, Texas' total crude output could be reduced 53,000 barrels daily below the September estimate of market demand for Texas oil made by the Federal Bureau of Mines.

Lon A. Smith, commission chairman, said he had discussed the matter with Sadler but had reached no decision. Smith and Sadler frequently team together in issuing oil proration orders.

Smith and Sadler also announced they would leave today for Washington. Smith said purpose of the trip was to confer with Secretary of Interior Ickes and others on the oil situation.

"We want to keep Texas' production around the Bureau of Mines estimate of market demand," Smith said.

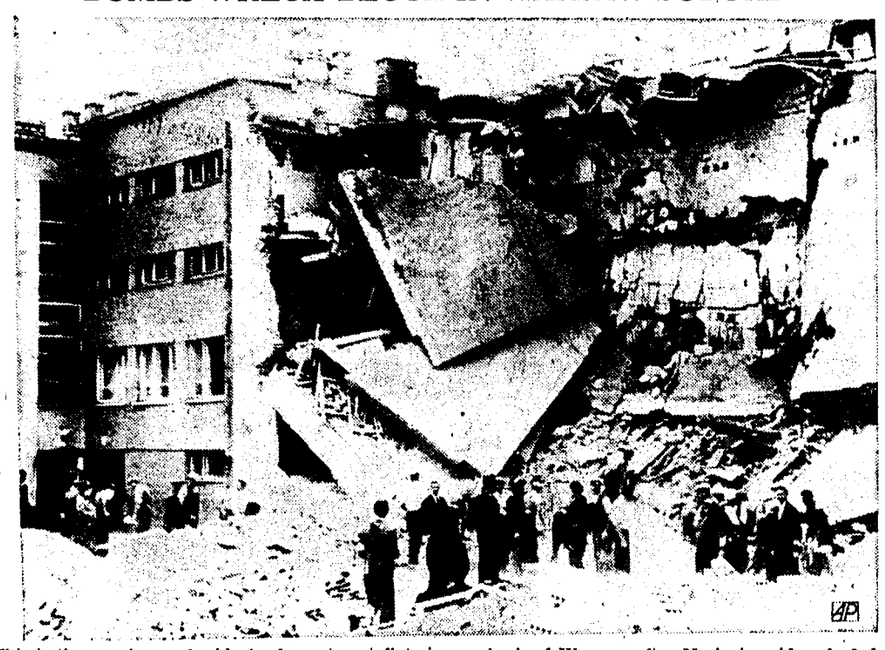

East Texas Allowable Hiked

Last week Smith and Sadler issued orders increasing the allowable of the East Texas field approximately 100,000 barrels daily and leaving the remainder of Texas' field allowables unaltered, this after several other Midcontinent oil producing states had curtailed production.

Sadler declared his purpose in restoring seven-day production for

LANDON AND KNOX INVITED TAKE PART CONFERENCE LEADERS

PRESIDENT INVITES TITULAR HEADS REPUBLICAN PARTY FOR DISCUSSIONS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—President Roosevelt has invited former Governor Alf M. Landon of Kansas and Frank Knox of Chicago—the titular heads of the republican party—to a White House parley Wednesday at which leaders of the nation will consider America's neutrality program.

Stephen T. Early, a presidential secretary, said Mr. Roosevelt had talked with Landon and Knox by telephone last night and said they had accepted the invitation.

Early said Representative Mapes (R-Mich), ranking minority member of the house rules and interstate commerce committees, also had been asked to the meeting.

The president arranged for the conference, a day before congress meets in special session to consider the neutrality issue, in order to get an exechange of views among bi-partisan leaders in the national legislature. The addition of Landon and Knox, which went outside of congress, was understood to be in the nature of further attempting to bury partisanship and politics during the present crisis.

No Time for Politics

Early said the president told him today "this is no time to call any of those who will take part in Wednesday's meeting, either republicans or democrats."

Early spoke of them as nation-

BRITAIN IS MORE DETERMINED FIGHT NAZIS TO FINISH

INVASION OF LITTLE POLAND BY RUSSIAN RED MACHINE STIFFENS ENGLISH

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The British government was represented today as more than ever determined to fight Germany to a finish despite the new situation created by Soviet Russia's invasion of Poland.

Just how important these new complications would be was not immediately clear.

The government continued to study the situation, but remained silent pending receipt of more information.

The possibility of action such as Russian forces took against Poland yesterday, informed sources said, had been taken into account by Britain and France from the moment the German Russian non-aggression pact was signed August 24.

Authoritative quarters said the new development in no way altered Britain's belief there can be no peace until the Nazi regime in Germany is wiped out.

Th big question, however, was Britain's future relations with Soviet Russia.

Britain had the charge of the Commission Makes Official Test Of Bazette Producer

Official railroad commission tests of the Topaz Oil Company and Butler-Calhoun well on the Tramel tract in the A. C. Keyser survey, near Bazette, indicated the potential of the new producer was about 2,500 barrels daily according to local owners.

The well was reported to have flowed 602 barrels in the 24 hour test through a three-eighths inch choke, and made 95 barrels per hour flowing through open two-inch tubing. The oil and gas ratio was reported exceptional, and the official gravity was announced at 45 degrees.

Local owners stated they had been assured top daily allowable for the field with the definite figure to be announced by rail commission officials shortly.

Site for the second test has been cleared and a crew was reported to have started building derrick Monday with possibilities the new test would be spudded in later this week. As far as can be learned no other tests have been announced but lease and royalty play along both sides of the river is reported heavy.

SHIPPING LOSSES HEAVILY INCREASED BY PLANE CARRIER

BRITISH AIRCRAFT CARRIER COURAGEOUS, OF 22,500 TONS, TORPEDOED

By The Associated Press

The sinking of the British aircraft carrier Courageous, a 22,500-ton vessel, today raised the current European war's known shipping losses to 39 vessels with an aggregate gross tonnage of 198,658.

The Courageous, a British admiralty announcement said, was the victim of Germany's submarine warfare.

The warship, one of Britain's oldest aircraft carriers, was the navy's first craft officially reported sunk since war started 15 days ago.

On this side of the world the American navy went ahead with its preparations for the annual war games in the Pacific despite the hostilities in Europe.

About 150 warships and several hundred planes, manned by more than 50,000 officers and men, will participate.

Meanwhile, the outcome of a battle between a British airplane and a German submarine that sank a British steamer remained a mystery.

The unusual fight between the rival over-sea and under-sea raiders was described by Capt. H. A. Pederson of the U. S. Lines' American Farmer last night in a radio message reporting his rescue of 29 crew members of the torpedoed British steamer Kafiristan.

The rescue took place 400 miles off the Irish coast. Six men were reported missing.

Pederson said the U-boat which sank the 5,913-ton Kafirstan used its rockets and blinkers to help the American Farmer locate the lifeboats carrying survivors.

In the midst of rescue operations, however, a British airplane appeared and bombed the submarine.

The submarine replied with machine gun fire, Pederson said,

FRENCH CONTINUE TO HOLD GAINS IN WESTERN SECTOR

REPORT THOUSANDS GERMAN TROOPS BEING RUSHED TO SIEGFRIED LINE

PARIS, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Thousands of steel-helmeted German reserves were reported flooding into the Siegfried line today to strengthen Germany's stand against the French advance on Nazi soil.

The movement of German reserves toward the western front was regarded by military experts here as a sign Nazis expect Polish resistance on the eastern front to collapse soon.

Russia's invasion of Poland shocked France, although the nation expected it. The press condemned it almost unanimously as treachery.

Officially, however, France gave no hint whether she would classify the Russian move as an act of war against allied interests or accept the Soviet explanation the invasion was undertaken merely to protect Russian interests on the assumption the Polish government no longer existed.

Official circles, nevertheless, emphasized France and Great Britain were determined to "crush Hitlerism" and free Poland of foreign troops.

Premier Daladier came back from the German-French front to study the new circumstances.

German Troops Coming Up.

Even as the premier returned praising the morale of French soldiers, it was reported Germany was releasing whole trainloads of Nazi troops to stiffen her west wall defense.

What many Frenchmen had predicted apparently was approaching reality—German and Russian forces were nearing a junction

RUSSIANS POUR MEN AND MACHINES INTO POLAND ON MONDAY

(By The Associated Press.)

Germany and Soviet Russia hinted today they may carve a small buffer Polish state out of the war-shattered Poland their armies are invading from east and west.

A renewed military effort to capture encircled Warsaw was announced by Germany.

Resumption of operations against the Polish capital was made known after expiration of an ultimatum demanding Warsaw's surrender.

Britain's mighty navy, pressing the British-French war against Germany on the seas, lost an aircraft carrier to an enemy submarine.

France reported only "local activity" on the western front where French forces hold positions slightly inside the German frontier.

Besieged Warsaw, abandoned by her government, remained in Polish hands.

President Moscicki of Poland, government leaders and Polish troops and planes crossed into Rumania to escape the slowly closing vice formed by Germans advancing from the west and Soviet Russians from the east.

The Red army advance, a sudden Sunday morning stroke which added new complexities to the European war, was said to have reached towns 50 miles inside the Polish frontier.

With the strip of territory narrowing between Russian and German forces, talk of an armistice following upon a new partition of Poland was heard in Moscow quarters.

The Brtish admiralty said the aircraft carrier Courageous had been "lost by submarine action." The 22,500-ton warship, launched in 1916, had been serving with Britain's reserve fleet attempting to sweep German ships from the seas and protect British shipping from German submarines.

The German high command said it had one-fourth of the battered Polish army surrounded south of Warsaw.

It said its Polish campaign was "nearing its end."

Poland's Fate Sealed

The Soviet march apparently sealed Poland's fate.

Premier-Foreign Commissar Molotoff told 24 other nations, including Britain and France, Poland's allies, that the Soviet Union would remain neutral in relations with other powers.

In a radio broadcast Molotoff declared treaties between Russia and Poland "have ceased to operate" because Poland no longer existed as a state after two weeks of German invasion.

He said the red armies would carry out their "sacred duty" of taking over the approximately 11,000,000 White Russians and Ukrainians in Poland. These minorities were Russia's before the post-war creation of Poland.

The British government, officially silent concerning the Russian move, was represented as more than ever determined to fight Germany to a finish.

There was no hint whether Britain and France, both pledged to preserve Polish independence, would regard the red army march as bringing Russia into the European war on Germany's side.

British newspapers called it "a stab in the back."

Nazi Reinforcements

French reports said German reinforcements, apparently released from the eastern front by German successes in Poland, were pouring into western front fortifications.

France was worried about Rumania who holds the former Russian province of Bessarabia. Britain and France has guaranteed to help Rumania against any aggression.

Both hopes and fears were raised

SOVIET RUSSIAN HORDES MARCHING THROUGH POLAND

WEAKENED LITTLE NATION BEING OVERRUN BY REDS AFTER NAZI BATTERINGS

MOSCOW, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Germany and Soviet Russia today gave what was interpreted as a strong hint of intentions to create a small Polish buffer state when their invading armies finish conquering Poland.

A joint Soviet-German communique was issued declaring the intention of their armies was to help the Polish people "reconstruct conditions of their state existence."

"These troops do not pursue any aims which are against the interests of Germany or the U. S. S. R. or against the spirit and letter of the Soviet-German nonaggression pact," said the communique.

"The mission of the troops is to bring order and peace to Poland."

(The official German news agency issued a substantially similar announcement in Berlin.)

The joint communique was broadcast from Russian radio stations as Soviet troops moved deeper into war-weakened Poland.

Poland ordered her ambassador, Waclau Grzybowski, to leave Moscow in protest against the Soviet march into Polish territory.

Troops Nearing Each Other

Word from the red army general staff of a constantly narrowing wedge between Russian and German troops revived reports an armistice in the European war would be proposed as soon as Poland's fate is determined.

Such a proposal, diplomatic sources said, might be made by Russia or Germany's axis partner, Italy.

With the first move from the east that pinned Poland in a vise yes-

RUSSIAN OCCUPATION POLAND IS REMINDER THAT WAR TREND DEPENDS ON SOVIET PROGRAM

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Russia's military occupation of Eastern Poland is an unescapable reminder that the trend of the European war depends in large degree at this juncture on the Soviet Union's intentions.

Even the possible extension of the war into a world conflict may hinge on Moscow.

Europe now stands at the first big cross-roads of the general upheaval. The turning that is taken will be determined by the interpretation which the Anglo-French allies place on Russia's action.

Neither Paris nor London thus far has expressed any official opinion regarding this development which has staggered both of them, even though it wasn't unexpected. They must decide quickly, however, whether to accept:

1. Russia's declaration the occupation is merely to protect the Russian peoples of Poland, and that the Soviet intends to remain neutral. On the face of it this would presage a withdrawal of Russian forces when the need of protection passed.

2. Poland's charge that the Russian move constitutes aggression which would mean that Germany and Russia have partitioned Poland between them—an event which had been widely predicted by the European press. This would place England and France in the position of challenging Russia to war.

Pledge to Poland.

However, the allies may choose to regard that now the fact remains they have pledged themselves to free Poland from invasion. That means not only invasion from Germany, but from any other country.

Should the Anglo-French brotherhood defeat Germany, then they would be bound by the bond with Poland to try to eject from Poland any foreign force of occupation which refused to move out.

Since Poland already was tottering before the overwhelming German onslaught, the Russian occupation can scarcely make the little nation's position worse. Indeed, it may save the Poles from

TERROR OF FIFTY-SIX HOURS IN AN OPEN BOAT AFTER SHIP SUNK BY MINE IS RECOUNTED

FLUSHING, The Netherlands, Sept. 8.—(AP)—The terror of 56 hours in an open boat hung today over four American survivors of the Norwegian freighter Ronda, sunk by a mine off the northern coast of The Netherlands with a loss of 17 lives.

Two Americans and 15 members of the crew went down with the ship.

The survivors, exhausted, told a graphic story of the hours of horror preceding their rescue by the Italian ship Provvidenza, which brought them here.

"How we made it I don't know," declared Miss Josephine Allen Duncan, formerly of Richmond, Va., swept overboard by waves as the doomed vessel settled.

"We were just lucky," said Karl Hilgendorf of Milwaukee, Wis., described by his companions as a hero.

Hilgendorf was credited with saving Miss Duncan's aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan Etchison, formerly of Richmond, whose 13-year-old daughter, Nan, was among those lost.

Other survivors said Hildendorf tied Mrs. Etchison to two floating planks until a Norwegian sailor helped them into a boat.

The other American survivor was Douglas Miller of Ann Arbor, Mich., University of Michigan student. Gorden Felts of Odessa, Mo., singer who had been studying in Germany, was among those lost.

When picked up by the Provvidenza, the four Americans and 16 crew members were crowded into a tiny boat intended for 10 persons.

Miss Duncan said the Ronda sank so swiftly after striking the mine Wednesday there was no time to launch the lifeboats.

"Five of the Norwegian sailors built a raft to keep from overloading the boat too much," Miss Duncan said. "They stayed on the raft two nights, hooked to the boat by an oar. Then the raft collapsed, so we all had to use the boat—literally crushed atop one another."

The survivors said the boat leaked continuously, and that they were forced to bail steadily, using their hands and shoes.

The Ronda was en route from Antwerp by way of Norway to the United States when she struck the mine.

SAFETY DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS PLAN FOR CERTIFICATES LAW

NEW CERTIFICATES OF TITLE ACT WILL AFFECT THOUSANDS OF MOTORISTS

AUSTIN, Sept. 18.—(Spl.)—Public Safety Department officials today hurried preparations to set in motion the new certificate of title act which will affect thousands of motor vehicle owners after October 1.

Ralph L. Buell, driver's license division chief under whose supervision the new law will be administered, said forms and instructions will be mailed to tax collectors by next Monday so they may begin to receive title applications by October 1, the date the law goes into effect. At least a million certificates of title are expected to be issued in the next 12 months, he said.

It was emphasized that this act, passed by the past regular session of the legislature, applies only to motor vehicles offered for sale, purchased or encumbered with liens on and after October 1. In other words, the present owner of an automobile does not have to secure a certificate of title until he sells his car or places an encumbrance against it—until January 1, 1942. If a lien is placed against the vehicle before October 1, 1939, no certificate is necessarp.

All motor vehicles now required to be registered will be effected by the certificate of title law whenever their ownership status is changed. Only vehicles owned by governmental agencies are exempt.

Pointing out that applications for titles must be made in the county of residence of the automobile owner and ownership definitely proved, Buell said the new law is destined to be a hard blow to automobile thieves and others who atteempt sales of mortgaged vehicles. A fee of 25 cents will be charged for each original title and each reissuance. Ten cents goes to the tax collector and 15 cents to the state.

All new vehicles in the possession of dealers on September 18, 1939, will be required to have manufacturers' titles of ownership, according to the new law. Vehicles imported from other states and offered for sale in Texas will be certified through special affidavits and forms.

Whenever the owner of a motor vehicle transfers it by operation of law, as upon inheritance, devise, bequest, bankruptcy, receivership, judical sale, or any other involuntary dveesture of ownership, all official papers connected with the transaction must be attached to application for title. Foreclosure under terms of a lien must be noted by affidavit of facts, Buell said.

Tax collectors over the state will forward all title applications to the Austin headquarters of the safety department where they will be investigated, filed, and titles issued. Revocation and suspension authority for certain violations of the law was given state police, however, interested persons may request a hearing.

TAYLOR'S MAGNETO HOUSE

News of County Home Demonstration Clubs

Bazette Club

The Bazette Home Demonstration Club met at the club house Wednesday, September 13. The president called the meeting to order. Plans were made for an all-day meeting Wednesday, September 27. There is to be an exhibit that day at the club house on articles made from cotton sacks, such as sugar, flour and meal sacks. A prize will be given for the best article. Miss Rettiger, the demonstration agent, will be present and give a demonstration on poultry dishes.

Sheets of paper containing questions on "Accident Hazards in the Home" were passed out and each member answered the question, "Did you ever think how long it takes an accident to happen?" Well, it takes about the same time as it does to blink your eye or snap your finger. It isn't the time it takes an accident to happen that weighs heavily, it is the time after it happens that ticks off torment like an eternity. The good Lord knew what he was doing when he gave us two eyes, two ears, a brain and a good pair of hands! Use them to guard yourself against that little slip, that fatal lapse, that "too lazy" to look feeling or the careless moment that too often causes a lifetime of regret and misery. These were some of the thoughts brought out in the reports given at the meeting.

A delicious refreshment plate was served to 19 members and one new member, Mrs. Kenneth Sessions.—Reporter.

County Council Meets

Eighteen members of the County Home Demonstration Clubs council met with Miss Clara Rettiger, in the county court room Saturday afternoon, September 17.

Mrs. O. K. Vinson and Miss Nellie Beale gave reports of the home demonstration association meetings held in Lubbock Sept. 6, 7, and 8.

Mrs. R. P. Garrett, chairman of educational exhibit committee, talked on club exhibits to be displayed at the county fair.

The following were appointed by the chairman, Miss Hortense Waters, to make arrangements for the "country store" at the fair: Mrs. R. P. Garrett, Mrs. Ollie Prince, Mrs. John Howell and Mrs. J. M. Parrish.

Miss Hortense Waters suggested that each club offer a prize for the member who enters the largest number of entries in the fair. This would stimulate more interest in the fair, Miss Waters explained.—Reporter.

It is known that some of the other leading breeders near Corsicana have installed air-conditioning equipment in recent months to overcome the handicap of competing against animals from other sections which were rated higher by some judges because of longer coats of hair.

MANY PRISONERS LODGED IN JAIL SATURDAY NIGHT

NEGRO IS CHARGED WITH ASSAULT TO MURDER; SHOT INTO HOUSE

Twenty-five prisoners were lodged in the county jail Saturday night, Sheriff Cap Currington reported Sunday.

Henry Smith, negro, charged with assault with intent to murder, was lodged in jail Saturday. He is charged in connection with the alleged firing of a .22 rifle into a house occupied by a number of cotton pickers near Corsicana. The complaint was filed before Judge Pat Geraughty.

One was brought to jail on a charge of violation of the prohibition laws. Two were picked up by Ellis county officers and a Texas ranger here and were taken to Waxahachie to answer charges of receiving and concealing stolen property.

The remaining prisoners were charged with drunkenness, gambling and other misdemeanors.

County officers commented on the fact that were no automobile accidents or collisions Saturday and Saturday night, despite the fact there was perhaps the largest week-end crowd of the season here Saturday afternoon and night. Parking space in the downtown section, particularly on Beaton street, was a considerable problem.

GOD'S WILL AND MAN'S SALVATION IS SERMON SUBJECT

All services were well attended at the Fifth Avenue Church of Christ yesterday. One was baptized at the close of the evening service.

The minister spoke on "Five Wills" at the evening service. He insisted that God, Christ, the Holy Spirit and the Church all will the salvation of man. It was further shown that man must exercise his will in any and all responsible obedience or disobedience. If man is incapable of volition or choice, involving the exercise of his will, he is not a subject of either salvation or damnation, and so man must actually will to be lost if indeed he is lost. Jesus said, "Ye will not come unto Me that ye may have life" (John 5:40). In Matt. 23:37 Jesus said unto the inhabitants of Jesusalem, "I would have gathered your children together, but ye would not. Again we see that the responsibility is thrown right back on the will of the disobedient.

The speaker insisted that in the face of such Scriptures there is just one conclusion, and that is that only those who will to be lost will be finally condemned. It was insisted that those who through negligence, carelessness and indifference stand aloof from the pleading of Christ could not more definitely will his damnation.—Church Reporter.

VIRGINIA ELIZABETH MIDDLETON AND WILLIAM ALVIN LANDRETH WED IN BEAUTIFUL CEREMONY

The stately First Baptist church, which has been the scene of many notable weddings, added another to its annals when, on Thursday evening, September 14, Miss Virginia Elizabeth Middleton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Middleton, 1452 West Second avenue, and William Alvin Landreth, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Landreth of Fort Worth, stood before its altar to make their marriage vows.

The Rev. J. Howard Williams, of Amarillo, former pastor of the church, assisted by the Rev. E. T. Miller, the pastor, performed the impressive ring ceremony. An arrangement of palms and Woodwardia fern provided an effective background for the decorations, as a whole, which consisted of miriads of white, bridal tapers half encircling the choir rail and formal grouping of wedding greens that enhanced the beauty of the white plume and pompom chrysanthemums and white gladioli that centered the choir rail in cascade effect, and the same lovely blossoms that adorned the organ and piano.

As the invited guests assembled in the church Mrs. S. K. Brietz, organist of the church played an interlude of wedding selections including Listz's immortal love tone-poem, "Liebestraume," and "At Dawning," by Cadman. During the ceremony she played "I Love You Truly," in subdued tones.

Mrs. Joel Trimble, accompanied by Mrs. Brietz, sang "Because," and "All For You" the latter having been chosen, as it was sung at the wedding of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Middleton.

Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" announced the coming of the bridal party, and the procession left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March."

Bride's Attendants

Mrs. William Banks Thomas of Dallas, cousin of the bride, was matron of honor, and other attendants were Misses Carroll McPherson of Longview, Mary Dell Landreth of Fort Worth, sister of the bridegroom, Arabella Jester and Mariella Burke of this city, Mrs. Hugo Allen of Alice, and Mrs. James R. Ruth of Houston.

The bridesmaids and matron of honor were dressed identically in gowns of moonstone blue, Watteau satin, made with tight fitted bodice, low sweetheart neckline, short puffed sleeves and voluminous skirts. Each wore blue ostrich tips in their hair, and carried cascade bouquets of red, Better Times roses combined with silver cloth ribbon.

Cousin Best Ma

Jack Landreth of Evanston, Ill., the bridegroom's cousin, served as best man, and groomsmen were Sam Cantey, Charles Dulaney, Emery Cantey and Joe Lydick of Fort Worth, John Middleton of Cayuga, brother of the bride, and Max Dolson, Baytown, cousin of the bridegroom. Each wore full dress suits and boutonnieres of white carnations.

Little Scott Middleton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elliott Middleton, dressed in a white satin suit, carried the ring on a white satin pillow.

The bride, who was given in married by her father was lovely in a gown of white luster satin made with tight banded waistline and full skirt which fell into a magnificant fan-shaped train. The sleeves were long below the slightly extended shoulder line, and fell in fitted points over the wrist. Above the low, sweetheart neckline, the bride wore a strand of cultured pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

The veil of layers of bridal illusion fell the full length of the train from a halo of pearls and bridal illusion.

She carried a beautiful bouquet of white, purple throated Canhamiana orchids and lilies of the valley in cascade effect, intermingled with bridal illusion, and showers of the valley lilies fell gracefully below the knees.

Informal Reception

The home of the bride's parents was the scene of an informal reception immediately after the ceremony, and the invited guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Middleton, the bride and groom and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Landreth of Fort Worth, who stood in front of the mantel which was festooned with ropes of plumosis and centered with a lovely arrangement of white gladioli. White chrysanthemums, gladioli and asters were placed advantageously about the living room.

The bride's cake, a lovely double wedding ring confection, held the place of honor on the beautiful dining table where it rested on a mirror reflector outlined in valley lilies. At the opposite end was the exquisite silver punch bowl and its glasses from which a delicious fruit punch was served with the cake. Presiding at the bride's table during the hours were Mrs. Elliott Middleton and Mrs. Robert Davidson, Mrs. Aldrich Moore and Mrs. Jack Garrett, both of Houston.

Miss Annie Mary Pierce presided over the bride's guest book.

Mrs. Middleton was wearing a powder-blue crepe, with draped chiffon top in the same shade, and wore a shoulder corsage of harmonizing orchids as did Mrs. Landreth, the bridegroom's mother, whose gown was a lovely creation with silver lame top and flesh pink lace skirt.

On Extended Honeymoon

The newly wedded couple left during the reception for New York City, Boston, Quebec, Montreal, Niagara Falls and Chicago. Mrs. Landreth traveled in a suit of bronzeen green leda cloth, made with full skirt and embellished with an ornament of emerald surrounded with amber. Her corsage was white orchids and her accessories were brown. Her hat was in beaver trim and she carried a beaver muff.

Mrs. Landreth graduated from the Corsicana High school and also from Stevens College, Columbia, Mo., and attended the University of Texas. While in high school Mrs. Landreth was queen of the coronation. At the University of Texas she was a member of the Pi Beta Phi sorority, and also a member of Nu Epsilon Tau Tau.

Mr. Landreth, who is associated with his father in the Landreth Production Co., with headquarters at Odessa, where he and his bride will make their home, attended Culver Military Institute, Washington and Lee University and the University of Texas.

ADOLF HITLER MAY BE MISSING NEPHEW OF AGED TEXAN BUT HE IS WILLING TO FORGET MATTER

By OLIN W. CLEMENTS

EAST BERNARD, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Eighty-three year old Alois Kozelsky sat in his wheel chair and wondered if one of the characters in the European drama was his long lost nephew, Adolf Hitler.

The old man, an invalid 30 years, was not sure. About two years ago, he remarked he had lost track of a nephew Adolf Hitler. The story spread. All Kozelsky could recall was his sister married a man named Hitler and she had a son Adolf who disappeared from home at the age of 12. The sister has been dead many years.

The people of this Czech-Bohemian-German community are divided on the question. They say some of the six Kobelsky children physically resemble Germany's Fuehrer.

Joe Kozelsky, the eldest, a cattleman and East Bernard business man, doesn't know whether he is the dictator's first cousin.

"We do not know,' he explained. "A couple of years ago the newspapers printed stories that Hitler was my father's nephew. All they had to support that claim was the memory of an old, old man, who has not been in Germany in 50 years.

"My father thinks Germany's Adolf Hitler may be his lost nephew but neither he nor members of his family in Austria, Germany and Czecho-Slovakia really know."

He wishes people would forget the whole thing and let the Kozelsky family continue the quiet life they have followed half a century on the great Texas coastal plain.

Newspaper stories two years ago brought offers from New York promoters for public appearances.

"We don't want that,' Kozelsky said. "We hope people will understand the whole thing started when papa happened to remember having a lost nephew named Adolf Hitler. There are many people named Hitler in Germany."

Essie Jewel Sawyer And H. L. Wendorf, Jr. Married Thursday

Miss Essie Jewell Sawyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Sawyer became the bride of H. L. Wendorf, Thursday morning, September 14, in a very quiet wedding at the parsonage of the First Baptist church, with the pastor, the Rev. E. T. Miller, performing the impressive ring ceremony.

The couple were attended by Miss Emma Jo Pickering and Mr. Donald Mulcahy of San Antonio.

The bride was attired in a very becoming ensemble of grotto blue crepe and black accessories. Her flowers were pink carnations worn as a shoulder corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Wendorf left immediately after the ceremony for San Antonio on a short wedding trip, after which Mr. Wendorf will enter Baylor University for the coming term.

Miss Emmadine Wendorf of Kilgore, sister of the bridegroom was here for the wedding.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Wendorf are graduates of the Corsicana High school. Mr. Wendorf attended St. Mary's university San Antonio and is completing his studies at Baylor.

Mrs. Wendorf has been the efficient cashier of the Community Gas Co., for some time.

One Body Missing From Sub Squalus When 25 Taken Out

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Sept. 15.—(AP)—A possibility the sea might hold forever one of the 26 victims of the U. S. S. Squalus arose today when grim naval officials were able to find only 25 of the bodies entombed for 115 days in the battered submarine now lying in dry dock here.

None could say for sure. The search still went forward. But officials did not deny the chance the body of one man might have been given up to the open sea through a hatch found open during difficult and dangerous salvage operations.

Naval steel workers struggled to remove the 25th victim, wedged in a battery well only 18 inches deep, by cutting with acetlyne torches through the plates of the battery room floor.

White-coated naval hospital aides made trip after trip from inside the Squalus to an improvised morgue, working through the night. This morning 24 bodies had been removed.

On the scene as each basket-stretcher was carried ashore were most of the 33 survivors of the Squalus' fatal plunge on May 23.

A crew of fingerprint and dental experts was on hand to aid in the identification of those who failed to pass the watertight door that saved a majority when the Squalus sank.

SEYMOUR WEISS AND FOUR OTHERS WERE CONVICTED OF FRAUD

FEDERAL PROSECUTORS ARE SPURRED IN ATTACK ON LOUISIANA SCANDALS

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Seymour Weiss, Monte Hart and Dr. James Monroe Smith today were sentenced to serve thirty months in prison and pay $1,000 fine on each of two counts of conviction of using the mails to defraud.

The prison sentences are to run concurrently.

Louis C. LeSage and J. Emory Adams were sentenced to a year and a day in prison and $500 fines on each of two counts against them, the prison sentences to run concurrently.

Defense attorneys filed bills of exception.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Convictions of Seimour Weiss, a Huey Long lieutenant, and four other persons on mail fraud charges spurred federal prosecutors today in their attack upon Louisiana scandals and paved the way for trial of Weiss and former Gov. Richard W. Leche on other charges.

The convictions, punishable by 10-year sentences and $10,000 fines, rendered a staggering blow to the Long political machine, now fighting for retention of power.

Convicted with Weiss last night were Dr. James Monroe Smith, much-indicted former president of Louisiana State University; Monte Hart, wealthy New Orleans contractor; Louis C. Lesage, former Standard Oil official, and J. Emory Adams, Dr. Smith's nephew by marriage.

The government contended Weiss got $16,500, Dr. Smith $25,000, Hart about $17,500 and Lesage $8,500 in a deal whereby Blenville Hotel furnishings were sold to LSU for $75,000 after the university allegedly purchased them previously in a $575,000 deal for the hotel. Prosecutors charged the mails were used in the transaction, leading to convictions on each of two counts.

Prosecutors said the next trial would be that of Weiss and Leche on charges of conspiracy to violate the Connally "hot oil" law.

Federal Judge Wayne G. Borah took under advisement a plea for a new trial, delaying passage of sentence.

UNITED STATES ARMY TAKES QUICK ACTION DEFEND CANAL ZONE

THAT WATERWAY IS NOW BEST DEFENDED OF ANY AMERICAN POSITION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—(AP)—The army's quick moves to safeguard the Panama Canal have made the waterway the most heavily defended American military position, with the possible single exception of the Hawaiian Island of Oahu.

Anti-aircraft troops loaded on the transport St. Mihiel this week at New York and others already dispatched or under orders to leave shortly will swell the Canal Zone garrison to more than 18,500 officers and men, exclusive of naval and marine forces.

Several thousand others are destined to reinforce the defenders. Because of the European war crisis, the movements were advanced several months, with the result the bulk of the arriving troops will have to sleep in tents until barracks are ready, officials said today.

The troop movements to Panama and to the new outpost on Puerto Rico, the placing of the Canal under martial law, the dispatch of 31 additional army fighting planes and other rapid-fire measures all gave evidence of intent to make impregnable quickly the vital link between the Atlantic and Pacific.

In numbers at present, Oahu still has more troops, but the Panama garrison within a few months will be stronger than the Pacific outpost. There were 21,777 army officers and men in Hawaii on June 30.

Gin Worker Suffers Broken Leg As Bale Cotton Fell on Him

Abb Soape, Jr., 21, of Angus, employe of the A. G. Smith gin, suffered a broken leg about 6 o'clock Friday afternoon when a bale of cotton fell on him as he worked near the press. Attending physicians said both bones in the right leg were broken just above the ankle.

The injured man was taken to a physician's office for surgical treatment and later transferred to the P. and S. Hospital in a Corley ambulance. He was reported resting as well as could be expected Saturday.

CHANGE NEUTRALITY ACT IS FAVORED BY LOCAL LEGION POST

WOULD ALLOW BELLIGERENT NATIONS TO BUY MUNITIONS OF WAR

The Johnson-Wiggins Post of the American Legion has gone on record as favoring what is known as the "cash and carry plan" in connection with the proposed revision of the present neutrality law.

The resolution, in full, as passed by the local legion post, follows:

Whereas, we as former soldiers of the great World War, having experienced first-hand the sacrifices, dangers and horrors of war, and having seen comrades representing the finest qualities of young American manhood fall in battle and others maimed and disabled for life, and having for 20 years observed, helped and aided women and orphaned children, whose young sons, husbands and fathers were killed outright or died later, or who have been permanently hospitalized as human sacrifices to war, and we do now abhor war in all its phases and shrink from the fearful spectacle of our young sons and other Americans marching into another holocaust, and Hitler is Outlaw.

Whereas, the dictator, Adolf Hitler, is an outlaw at heart and a menace to civilization and especially to the democracies of the world and is trying to revive the old theory of government that "Might makes right," and possessing a selfish ambition and a hatred of the Christian religion and all types of worship other than to the Nazi state, with a total disregard for his pledged word, he is now pillaging the weaker nations surrounding Germany with a view of conquering the stronger ones in their turn and thereby making of himself the most powerful and dangerous dictator the world has known, and

Whereas, the defeat of France, Poland, England and the British Dominions in the present war would make Hitler the overlord of Europe, Africa and parts of North and South America, and leave our United States alone in the world to face his contemptible ambition for reckless decisions and his announced intentions of destroying democratic government everywhere, and Face Cold Facts.

Whereas, when we face cold facts, it is unthinkable that this Republic will stand idly by and permit the murderous destruction of the French Republic, the British Empire, as has been done in Czecho-Slovakia and the ravenous feast of Communism and Nazism upon the spoils thereof, and

Whereas, the democracies of Europe, if properly clothed, fed, armed and supplied with munitions of war, can in all probability resist this attack upon democratic governments without the sacrifice of American youth, and said democracies will be sorely in need of munitions of war and other supplies from this country in order that they may be successful in crushing Hitlerism and in defending human liberties without the sacrifice of American soldiers, therefore, be it Change Urged.

Resolved, by Johnson Wiggins Post No. 22, American Legion of Corsicana, Texas, that it is the considered opinion of this body that the best immediate course for our country to pursue in order that it may not be forced to participate in the war, is that our present national so-called neutrality act be repealed or amended in order that belligerent nations who can bring their ships to our shores be permitted to buy munitions of war and other needed supplies as freely as they may, providing that such supplies and munitions shall not be transported under the American flag. Be it further

Resolved, that copies of this resolution be furnished our United States senators from Texas, Congressman Luther Johnson of the Sixth congressional district, and the daily press.

WAR ESCAPE

"How can I escape from this everlasting war news?" asks a reader. "I want to know what is going on, and I am interested in the outcome, but I can't stand so much of it. The newspapers are full of it and the radio pours it out at all hours of the day and night. People talk about it wherever I go. There ought to be some respite, some way of escape."

Yes, there ought to be, and there is. Has the protesting reader tried reading a book? Not a book about war, such as so many are reading nowadays, to give them a background for the present historic struggle, but a book or a series of books on something quite different.

The libraries and bookstores are filled with interesting literature of many kinds, and it may be the same with the complainant's own home. Books of poetry or history or fiction or art or philosophy that intelligent people have always meant to read but somehow haven't got around to. Books which may carry the war-sickened readers away into a world of their own—a world of mind and imagination, where for a little while, at least, human hopes may come nearer realization.

Emerging from that ideal world at intervals, to take a look at current events, the reader may bring back with him a philosophy which makes these jangled times more tolerable and suggests hope for the future.

FRIGHTFULNESS.

Is it to be a war of "frightfulness' again? The German command, in the sinking of the liner Athenia in callous disregard of the passengers' lives, has seemed to be applying the principle at the start of the war, instead of waiting two years as the Kaiser's government did in the World war.

That frightfulness of 1916-18, surpassing anything ever known up to that time in what is quaintly called "civilized warfare," was largely responsible for Germany losing the last war. The rest of mankind, and particularly America, could not tolerate such savage methods, lest they spread and decivilize the world.

Aside from the barbarity and treaty-breaking involved in sinking such passenger ships as the Athenia, it is certainly a mistake in tactics, because it tends to consolidate world opinion against any government responsible for it. We hope that Britain and France will not feel obliged to follow the Nazi example.

PUBLIC FOLLY

Speaking of the recent jump in stock and commodity prices, produced mainly by a hysterical buying wave, a business writer says:

"When the American public goes to market in a buying mood, costs mean nothing. The higher the price tags, the cheaper they look. A while ago, Washington laid elaborate plans to 'cushion' the shock of war. Controls were all in readiness to prevent catastrophic price wreckage. Nobody in Washington, New York or anywhere else had the faintest notion that the thing needed would be a snubber that would keep John Q. Public from brain contusions when his head is hit the roof. Cushions seem to be all in the wrong place."

It wasn't so remarkable perhaps, about the sudden demand for "war babies" on the stock exchange. Gamblers will gamble, and from precedent that kind of gambling looked good. The big surprise was in the runs on grocery stores and the sudden demand for consumers' goods in general.

People should have known, and should realize now, that this country is bulging with food and other supplies, that no big war demand for such things has yet occurred, and that they can get along all right and save money by buying normally.

"And what will Adolf Hitler do with that corridor when he gets it?" a reader wants to know. He will march through it and realize what a big fella he

THE BARBER FROM BAD AXE

There's a golfing barber living up in Bad Axe, Michigan,
Who had tackled all the natives and had trimmed 'em to a man.
So one day as he was working
round the fringes of my hair,
I said: "Fifty-fifty-fifty! Come and get it, if you dare."
As he laid aside his clippers he retorted with a grin:
"I'll be there tomorrow morning
—and an extra buck I win."
Now I've played at golf with bankers, parsons, surgeons, millionaires,
So that barber up in Bad Axe sort o' caught me unawares.
He could part the lovely fairways down the middle with his drive,
And he handed me a combing
which I'm hoping to survive.
He kept sinking putts for birdies,
till I muttered: "I declare!
It is tough to spend the morning
with a barber in your hair!"
Forced to fight with desperation,
soon my game began to slip.
Whereupon the barber whispered:
"Take a little looser grip.
Slow your back swing just a trifle. 'Tis a tip I think you need."
And I answered with a chuckle:
"You are very kind indeed!
Though I've tipped a lot of barbers I had never hoped to see
The day when any barber would hand out a tip to me."
I've had many golfing losses. Surgeons often cut me down
And I seldom win a battle from the bankers of the town.
However, with the morrow what
I've suffered matters not,
The shame and hurt of failure
with the new day are forgot.
But I'm absolutely certain I shall carry to my grave
The memory of the trimming
which that Bad Axe barber gave.

SOUTH AMERICA AT THE FAIRS

Here is good news for America's two world's fairs. South Americans are much interested in them and continue coming north to attend them in increasing numbers. According to a steameship executive: "The peak of interest in the fairs as far as South Americans are concerned has only now been reached. Ships northbound from South America will continue to carry large passenger lists for the next two months."

The vacation season in this country is over. Children are back in school, which means that families are back in their homes, and such travelers are therefore growing scarce at the fairs. War in Europe will keep at home many prospective visitors from across the Atlantic. It will be fine if these places may be partly filled by friends from sister republics of the Western Hemisphere.

TWO-DAY HOLIDAYS

The moving of Thanksgiving Day may precipitate an avalanche of such changes. A poll by Dr. Gallup indicates that 51 per cent of the American people today would like to have all holidays, except possibly Christmas, come on Monday. That would mean a double holiday on Sunday and Monday and, along with the half-holiday now customary on Saturday, would make a grand week-end.

The principal holidays so readjusted would be Washington's and Lincoln's birthdays, the Fourth of July, Memorial Day, Columbus Day and Thanksgiving. Election day might be included, too, for the sake of uniformity. The idea is said to be suggested by a prevalent English practice.

So here's a new problem to argue about, if war and politics fail.

HOW LONG WILL IT LAST?

AMERICAN RECRUITING

The President has started a big recruiting drive to add about 150,000 men to the armed forces of the United States on land and sea. This is done under laws allowing such action in case of national emergency. In the President's view, such an emergency now exists.

Public opinion may be expected to approve such action, in view of the alarming foreign situation. The obvious feeling of the American people now is that we should put ourselves in a strong position of self-defense and then sit tight, riding out the war if possible without getting into it. The practical import of this military and naval expansion is that we are less likely to be drawn into the war of we are strong than if we are weak, because aggressors respect strength.

The new enlistments are expected to raise the strength of the regular army from its present 167,000 to 227,000; of the navy from 111,000 to 145,000, of the marine corps from 18,000 to 25,000, and of the National Guard from 190,000 to 235,000. This will mean in round numbers a federal strength of 400,000 professionals by land and sea, and additional state citizen-soldiers bringing the total available fighting men up to 630,000.

WAR AS A BUSINESS

"In Poland," writes columnist Paul Mallon, "Hitler is getting the coal, iron and zinc of Silesia, industrial plants, wheat fields, planes and army equipment, and possibly a direct route to Red Russia to bear such fruits as are possible from his new trade treaty. These benefits far outweigh the military advantages gained, and strengthen him materially in the eyes of military men."

It is another example, and the cleverest yet, of the fact that Hitler is making war as a business. A backward look is illuminating. He took and looted Czechoslovakia and some smaller areas. He has looted much of the wealth of Austria, gained peaceably by a display of force. After he has looted Poland, it is believed, he will proceed with a plan already made to move against Rumania, Hungary and Yugoslavia. When he has added their available wealth to his growing chain of business conquests, he will proceed eastward, looting as he goes. Thus he welds new economic resources into the framework of a once civilized country, which he is changing into an international outlaw and freebooter.

Hitler may succeed, unless his own people rebel against such a shameless policy, or nations preferring the old moralities succeed in restoring international law. Such job was done more than a century ago by Britain, with German help, ending Napoleon's spree of power and loot.

Benito seems to be more or less neutralized, but most observers will trust him about as far as they can throw a crisis by the tail.

If we are to succeed in keeping out of war, it will be by keeping out of America the things that produce war.

A totalitarian says democracies have fought the most wars. They've had to, to save themselves from the autocracies.

The air is now as full of propaganda as it is of waves. Beware of every brand but ours.

ANALYZING MOTHER GOOSE

Mixed emotions will be aroused in many bosoms by the announcement that educators are taking Mother Goose seriously. That classic seems to be gaining the dignified status of a textook. It will form the basis of a study course this fall for the National Congress of Parents and Teachers. Dr. Ada Hart of Cincinnati, chairman of the committee on parent education, is said to have developed a series of studies which will be published in the National Parent-Teacher.

Through these, is is reported, "parents will be given an opportunity to study and analyze modern American youth, his interests, attitudes, abilities, and characteristics, as they are described in 'Sing a Song of Sixpence' the stubbornness of 'Mary, Mary Quite Contrary,' the trials and tribulations of Jack and Jill, and the industry that went into construction of the 'House That Jack Built.' Dr. Arlitt attempts, in such lessons, to acquaint parents and teachers with their responsibilities to modern youth."

So here is another well of inspiration that has been neglected, as you might say, on the cultural and spiritual and psychological and ideological side, and the Lord only knows how many other sides. Instead of being merely an entertaininng old lady with a gift for childish jingles, Mothere Goose may prove to have been a very deep and designing pedagogue.

GERMAN-AMERICANS SPEAK.

One of the most impressive and heartening comments on the European crisis comes from a group of German-speaking people representing more than 100,000 German-Americans who met on Sept. 3 in Cleveland. There was no Swastika displayed and no word spoken against the Jews. The leaders spoke in behalf of German ideals and culture, against racial, class and religious hatred, addressing this appeal to the people of the Reich in the name of humanity:

"We are calling to you out of the unshakable faith that the German nation does not agree with the policies of Hitler, who, through the medium of disgraceful enslavement of free nations, is instigating this war contrary to the will of Germany as well as all other civilized nations.

"We extend to official representatives of the Czecho-Slovak and Polish groups in the United States the most sincere greetings, with the conviction that these groups, like ourselves, are moved by the desire to maintain peace and freedom in this country.

"The Nazi regime of Hitler is systematically destroying the good reputation of Germans throughout the world. For six years the world has observed with profound disgust the barbarous destruction of culture in a land of philosophers and poets. Hitler has started a war which will cause resentment against Germans all over the world. German-Americans are already feeling this resentment.

"Hitler must be defeated. His victory would mean the victory of barbarism over civilization. Hitler's defeat must be your victory, a victory of free and democratic Germany."

ATHENS GIRL HAPPY AT FAMILY REUNION; WAS ABOARD ATHENIA

NEW YORK, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Mary Katherine Underwood, an energetic young woman from Texas who survived the torpedoing of the British liner, Athenia, cried "Whee!" today and flung herself into the arms of her mother, Mrs. Arch Underwood of Athens, Tex., her grandmother, Mrs. Fred Quickenstad, and her brother, Harris.

The reunion was typical of many others when the train which brought 38 survivors of the tragedy from Montreal arrived at Pennsylvania station.

It wasn't all happiness, though. Three women, sisters, who had come to the station in the hope of finding their mother, Mrs. Katherine Leslie, 69 a widow, of Brooklyn, wept when they could not find her. They had believed her lost, but a picture of survivors landing at Halifax from the freighter City of Flint had given them hope. They thought they had recognized her in the Halifax crowd.

Ironically, one of them said, their father, Thomas Wright Leslie, had lost his life when the City of Mexico, on which he was a seaman in the world war, was torpedoed by a German submarine 200 miles from the spot where the Athenia was sunk.

TEXAS FARMERS MAY EXPECT PRICE HIKE FOR FARM PRODUCTS

AUSTIN, Sept. 15.—(AP)—Providing commercial shipping is not greatly hampered by warfare abroad, Texas farmers may expect an upward turn in the price of food and livestock products, in the opinion of J. E. McDonald, agriculture commissioner.

At the same time he asserts it would be "unwise and unfortunate" to boost levels to those recorded during the last world conflict which he says would prevent reduction of big surpluses in the United States. McDonald says a too high price structure in America would bring on greater production among foreign countries not at war, thus destroying or greatly hampering American exports.

He points out that although possibility these supplies might not last as long as expected because of the destructive forces of modern war.

The agriculture commissioner says producers of corn, wheat, oats, barley, cottonseed oil and livestock might benefit as a result of conditions abroad. In any event there should be no decline in prices for these commodities which are now selling at costs far below normal.

He adds:

"However, when and if higher prices come they should be kept on a reasonable basis in order to get rid of domestic surpluses and prevent too much foreign competition.

"If American products remain at fair levels there would not be greater foreign production.

McDonald expresses the opinion government control should be resorted to if necessary to keep commodity prices at a fair level.

He sees little possibility of benefit to the cotton farmer, explaining foreign consumption of American cotton is less in time of war than in peace.

On the other hand, cotton prices are not likely to slump under war conditions because they are now greatly less than at the start of the World war.

McDonald also believes producers of horses and mules in Texas might find greater markets abroad as a result of war.

In addition, the domestic wool situation might improve because this country's production is not sufficient for its consumption. It is assumed, the agriculture commissioner savs, Australian production might go exclusively to England thereby increasing demands—and prices—for American production.

VACANCIES EXIST IN KELLY-RANDOLPH FLYING FIELD NOW

It was announced Friday from the United States recruiting station in the basement of the Corsicana postoffice that unlimited vacancies now exist in the Kelly and Randolph flying fields at San Antonio.

All men accepted must agree to be transported from Dallas to San Antonio via air, and must present diplomas certifying they are high school graduates. They also must be unmarried, of good character, and between the ages of 18 and 21 years.

Announcement was also made that four vacancies exist in the Fort Sill, Okla., field artillery, and due to the army expansion program, several more vacancies in the various branches of the army are expected soon.

The Corsicana recruiting station has been operating in Corsicana for the past three months and reports that it has recruited approximately 20 men, largely from the smaller towns of the county.

Planning Enlarge Livestock Program In Navarro County

J. N. Edens, president of the Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show which is now preparing for its second annual exhibit on October 3-7, announced Friday morning the program of encouragement to younger residents of the rural sections to feed livestock would be continued next year with the same financial assistance available, and furthermore the plans would be enlarged and aid provided for any project approved by the county agents or vocational agriculture teachers for either boys or girls in the entire area served by the fair organization.

The pesident made his statement as a climax for the final checkup meeting of department and committee heads for the 1939 show held at the Corsicana Chamber of Commerce. He stated some had asked if the program was to be continued and the answer was an emphatic affirmative on an enlarged basis. "We have just gotten started," Mr. Edens said.

Only a few minor problems were presented to the fair officals for solution and the head of every committee and department reported a much greater response to requests for exhibits and with a generally higher quality available in all of the units.

Major John J. Garner, parade chairman, asserted plans were being made for the mounted section to include 800 to 1,000 riders, and asked the co-operation of other representatives in extending invitations to participants to all parts of this and adjoining counties.

It was decided no further group meetings would be held as only two weeks remain before the show and each chairman was far enough advanced with his plans to complete his preparations easily.

RESERVE STRENGTH PROVED MARGIN IN OPENING CONTEST

OUTCOME NEVER IN DOUBT AS RUGGED LINE CRACKED THROUGH HIGHLANDERS

By PAUL MOORE
Sun Sports Editor.

Slashing the Highlanders on the ground and in the air, the Corsicana Junglebeasts Friday night at Highlander Field opened the season with a crushing 37-7 victory over Redman Hume's green, fighting, but inexperienced club, and only a couple of tough breaks staved off additional tallies. The Bengals lived up to their advance notices, sent their hundreds of supporters into cheering demonstrations, atoned in a measure for their 42-7 licking absorbed on the same turf two years ago, and hurled a challenge to the remainder of District 10-AA that the Bengals are loose again, apparently holding an excellent opportunity to return to the glories of the yesteryears.

Despite the one-sided score of the melee, the Scotties have possibilities and a great spirit. Gone are the luminaries of the past two or three seasons that carried the banners of the Dallasites to the quarterfinals but Hume has a bunch of battlers who did not quit throughout the night. In Leftwich, giant tackle, the Highlanders have an outstanding lineman. He smeared Bengals play after play and was a continual nuisance to the Corsicanans...Wolfe, Wynn and Ernest looked fine as ball luggers for tre losers.

Many Stars Seen.

Corsicana presented a flock of fine looking performers...Gathright and Spencer strutted in openfield scampering while Andrews drove through the line like a pile driver...The line presented a bunch of rugged, rough forwards in Prewitt; center; Plyler, Weatherby and others.

Corsicana's air attack clicked frequently and the ends and backs looked impressive considering the early-season time. Down the field blocking was better than has been seen in years, while plenty of deception is shown on the reverses and spinners utilized. More than 30 lads were sent into the fray by the Bengal mentors.

The weather was exceptionally hot and frequent substitutions were made.

Band and Pep Squad Fine.

During the intermission between the halves, the highly-touted Corsicana pep squad and band also presented an eye-opening performance with their snappy drills and formatinos that surprised Corsicanans as well as Dallasites. The pep squad and the band was as impressive in its work as was the football club, and that's saying plenty. As one Corsicana woman was heard to remark:

"That's the best pep squad we ever had. We don't have to feel ashamed of that bunch."

Highland Park early in the first period recovered a Bengal fumble and then moved into Corsicana territory with end runs and laterals, but were stopped on the Tiger 25-yard stripe. A short time later, Plyler intercepted a Scot pass and returned to the 48-yard line. Andrews tore through for 13 yards and then a pass, Gathright to Lawhon was completed for 27 yards to the 9-yard line. A line play was stopped and a pass was incomplete. Roy Stewart who had gone into the game for the Bengals at this point, skirted to a touchdown on a reverse and the point was missed.

Garitty Scored.

Striking hard early in the second period, Gathright gained 24 yards on a reverse to his own 47 yard line and after a two-yard line gain, Gathright flipped a pass to Johnny Garitty who gathered in the ball and sped the remaining distance for a 51-yard jaunt and a touchdown. Andrews missed the attempted placement and gave the Bengals a 12-0 lead.

Highland Park, battling furiously and finding the Bengal line rather tough, took to the air. A pass, Wynn to Wright, was good for 22 yards and a first down to the Corsicana 47. A moment later Harwell intercepted a pass and shot away for a 53 yard sprint for the third touchdown and Andrews converted from placement, to make the score 19-0 which ended the tallying for Corsicana in the first half.

Humemen Scored.

With the third team in the lineup, the Highlanders drove down the field and Wolfe circled left end from the six yard stripe to score and Ernest converted to make the score Corsicana 19, Highland Park 7 at the half.

Gathright sped away behind excellent blocking early in the third for 24 yards and a touchdown and Spencer missed.

Andrews intercepted a desperate Scot heave on the Highland Park 25-yard zone and another marker resulted when Gathright negotiated 18 yards on a spinner a moment before the quarter ended.

Spencer's Jaunt.

Firing away in the fourth, Spencer passed to Gathright for a 20-yard gain to the Highland Park 26 and then Spencer bounded into the open behind a wave of interference picked his way, side-stepped a few would-be tacklers and then with a burst of speed, outdistanced the golden-hued tacklers for a touchdown to end the scoring for the evening. Sutton, who played a great defensive game throughout the evening, blocked a punt and recovered it on the Highland Park 30-yard mark. Spencer shot a pass to Gathright that put the ball on the Scots' 16 and a pass labelled another touchdown was intercepted by Waters on the Highland 2-yard line to end the threat. Corsicana again took to the air after getting the ball, but the gun stopped the hostilities.

RUSSIAN-JAPANESE AGREEMENT REPORT ATTRACTS INTEREST

WASHINGTON STATESMEN WATCHING SITUATION THAT MAY MEAN MORE TROUBLE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—(AP)—Senator Thomas (D-Utah) a member of the foreign relations committee, expressed the view today the Soviet-Japanese agreement to suspend fighting on the Manchoukuo-Outer Mongolia border might be a retaliatory move aganist the United States for serving notice of intention to terminate the 1911 commercial treaty with Japan.

Secretary Hull notified the Japanese government in July the 28-year-old treaty would lapse on January 26, 1940.

While Washington awaited the full significance of the Russo-Japanese truce, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh appealed to the United States in a radio address to stay out of the European war.

In one of his infrequent public utterances, the famous flier warned the nation not to be "misguided by this foreign propaganda to the effect that our frontiers lie in Europe."

"One need only to glance at a map to see where our true frontiers lie," he continued. "What more could we ask than the Atlantic Ocean on the East and the Pacific on the West? No, our interest in Europe need not be from the standpoint of defense, our own natural frontiers are enough for that."

Some diplomats in Moscow looked upon the Russo-Japanese armistice as the possible forerunner of a non-aggression pact between the two countries. Noting this, Senator Thomas told reporters:

Danger Closer to Shores.

"If it means an unfriendly Japan, the danger would be closer to our shores. If it is a sincere non-aggression pact it is a peaceful move. If it is a cloak for something else it is not so good." Rep. Starnes (D-Ala.) commented the truce indicated a "realignment of the world's dictatorial and totalitarian governments that would constitute the most positive threat to every truly democratic government thatt he world has yet seen."

Although Col. Lindbergh made no mention of the arms embargo clause of the neutrality act, which the Roosevelt administration will seek to repeal at the special session starting next Thursday, two prominent republicans spoke out last night in support of the administration's position.

Henry L. Stimson, former secretary of state, and Dr. Nichols Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, made their positions known in letters to the New York Times. Stimson said repeal offered the only sure way for the United States to keep out of war, and Butler contended that the neutrality act represented a policy of economic nationalism which was "the chief cause of the world's troubles."

Bloom Comments.

Discussing the Lindbergh speech Rep. Bloom (D-NY), chairman of the house foreign affaisr committee, commented that Lindbergh had voiced "what every American feels—that under no circumstances must this country enter the war."

"We must either keep out of European wars entirely or stay in European affairs permanently," Lindbergh said. "X x x our safety does not lie in fighting European wars. It lies in our own internal strength, in the character of the American people and of the American institutions."

Warning against making any mistake about the cost of entering the war, Londbergh said:

"If we take part successfully we must throw the resources of our entire nation into the conflict. Munitions alone will not be enough. x x x We are likely to lose a million men, possibly several million—the best of American youth."

MACKENZIE

shedding more of their blood in an epic but hopeless effort.

Other immediate effects of the invasion are such as to cause the Anglo-French allies deep concern.

Hungary and the Balkans already had felt the breeze of the Russo-German anti-aggression pact and were treading circumspectly.

Position Other Nations.

Hungary last week declined to announce her neutrality, and this was generally interpreted as being favorable to Germany. Turkey, recently pledged to Britain in a defensive pact, let it be known through the inspired press that she is the Soviet's greatest friend.

The support of Turkey is of vast importance to either side in the war, since she controls the strategic Dardanelles.

Rumania naturally is shaking in her boots over the Russian invasion. For years she has been living in fear the Soviet would demand return of Bessarabia, which was taken from Russia at the end of the World war. Rumania's heart is with the Anglo-French allies, but hidden sympathy is all she can give them now.

In short, Hungary and the whole Balkan Peninsula would seem to have been drawn closer within the network of German control by the Russian move.

The Soviet occupation has released masses of German troops which are being rushed to the western front to combat the Anglo-French attack.

The fighting in this theatre was summed up by a French communique this morning: "The night was calm on the entirety of the front."

Litvinoff Speech

On September 21, 1938, almost exactly a year ago, Mexim Litvinoff, then Russian foreign commissar, in a scathing speech at Geneva, accused France and Britain of capitulating to Hitler's demands on Szecho-Slovakia, and asserted they had ignored Russia's offter of military assistance to protect the little republic.

A newspaper, recalling this striking speech, asks how it fits in with Moscow's own invasion of Poland.

That opens up a very wide field, involving the gradual weakening of relations between Russia and the Anglo-French pair, until we have the present position. However, let's try to confine the answer to the specific case in hand.

It is true Russia did offer military assistance, but while we are on this point it should be mentioned there is a dispute as to the value of the assistance tendered.

When I was in Paris not long after Hitler's triumph at Munich over Czecho-Slovakia, a high French source informed me France had been ready to help her small ally but the help offered by both England and Russia was wholly inadequate. My informant declared Russia could give only airplanes for this service and Britain just a few troops.

Regarded Differently

Be that as it may, Russian eyes undoubtedly regarded the Czecho-Slovak difficulties in a much different light than they do those of the Poles. The Czechs and the Russians were on much more friendly terms than have been the Russians and the Poles—old enemies of long standing, although they did have a non-aggression pact.

The territory which Russia appears to be taking over in Poland represents that which the Poles took from Russia soon after the World war and added to the Polish state which already had been set up by the allied powers. True this area had been in Polish hands before, but the Soviet never had ceased to regard as their own folk the White Russian and Ukranian peoples which the Poles took over.

A far more important difference between the Polish and the Czecho-Slovak positions is that Germany and Poland already were at war and Poland was in a state of near collapse.

Whether one thinks the Soviet intends to keep the occupied territory, or has other plans for extending her influence abroad, the fact remains the Russian invasion may easily have been intended quite as much to protect Russian interests from Germany as for any other reason.

This is another way of saying that, despite the new and surprising relations between Russia and Germany, there has been nothing to indicate there is any love lost between the two.

POLAND

Polish army commander, although expected here, had not arrived.

The United States ambassador to Poland, Anthony J. Drexel Biddle, Jr., who came here last week, went to Bucharest last night.

There was no immediate word here of two Americans, William Morton, of the consular service, and Richard Mowrer, of the Chicago Daily News, last reported in Zaleszcyki.

Close on heels of President Moscicki, Beck and a government party of 56, stunned divisions of Poland's defenders, disarmed at the border, began streaming into neutral Rumania.

Message to Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, through Franklin Mott Gunther, U. S. minister to Bucharest, President Moscicki sent a telegram to President Roosevelt protesting that German planes had "borbarded methodically and with premeditation" open towns in Poland.

The telegram added:

"There are thousands of dead and wounded in the civil population in cities without a military objective."

Moscicki said the telegram was in reply to Mr. Roosevelt's message at the start of hostilities to all belligerents, asking that there be no bombardment of open cities.

Rumania massed troops behind her border and established inspection stations for disarming Polish soldiers.

The Poles tramped in wearily, carrying full equipment. Many told of plans to form a foreign legion and face German troops again.

With the soldiers came hundreds of civilian refugees in wagons, automobiles and afoot.

German planes were reported close to the Polish-Rumanian border. Word of bombings came from several points along the frontier. The Zalesczyzki bridge across the boundary-marking Dniester River was destroyed. A misdirected bomb killed and injured several in the nearby Rumanian village of Wignitz.

Polish Planes Interned.

RIGA, Latvia, Sept. 18.—(AP)—More than 60 Polish warplanes, many of them damaged in combat, were confiscated and their crews interned when they arrived at Daugavyles airport here today.

Polish citizens, including numerous officials, started crossing the border last night.

U. S. Military Attache Escapes

BUDAPEST, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The Hungarian telegraph agency carried a report today that Maj. William S. Colbern, U. S. military attache in Poland, was overtaken in his car by Soviet troops at Kolomyja, in Poland, near the Rumanian frontier.

The report said Major Colbern's Polish chauffeur posed as a German and managed to proceed and reach the frontier. The major has been in the interior of Poland in the role of military observer.

PARIS, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Reports reached Paris today that Soviet Russian troops driving east into Poland had occupied Wilno.

(Wilno, historic capital of Lithuania, was taken from Lithuania by Polish troops in 1920.

(It is Poland's northern city in the strip of Polish territory between Lithuania and Soviet Russia.)

BUDAPEST, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Warsaw's fate was unknown here today as the Polish capital's lone radio station, her last contact with the outside world, remained silent throughout the night.

Until now the "all's well" signal has been sounded nightly at 30-second intervals to the tinkling accompaniment of xylophone music and announcements that the city still was holding out against the German besiegers.

TALLINN, Estonia, Sept. 18.—(By The Ritzaus Danish News Agency)—(AP)—The Polish submarine Orzel eluded Estonian gunfire early today and escaped from Tallinn harbor where it had been interned as a result of the Polish-German war.

Estonian shore batteries and warships attempted unsuccessfully to halt the submarine.

(Tallinn is on the Gulf of Finland, an arm of the North Baltic.)

NAVARRO COUNTY SCHOOL LIBRARY BE OPENED SOON

EDUCATIONAL STEP BEEN SPONSORED BY COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT

Details incident to the opening of the Navarro county school library at the Carnegie Library quarters on West Collin street were announced Monday by J. C. Watson, Navarro county school superintendent, who is one of those responsible for this additional educational improvement.

Shelves were being installed in the southeast room on the second floor of the library building. Mrs. Genova Carraway will be the librarian. The WPA is furnishing the personnel, it was stated.

"We hope to be able to issue books by October 15," Superintendent Watson said. There are 123 counties in Texas with similar libraries, it was pointed out.

The maintenance of the library is by voluntary contributions of $5 per teacher, per year, per school, as recommended by the State Department of Education, and also by voluntary gifts of books, periodicals, etc., by citizens. Any books or periodicals will be appreciated, the superintendent pointed out, for if any are donated that are not regarded as suitable for the school library, they can be traded for other books.

The following letter, dated Sept. 14, from John W. Gunstream of Dallas, deputy state superintendent of District 11, has been received:

"Mr. J. C. Watson,
"County Superintendent,
"Corsicana, Texas.
"Dear Mr. Watson:

"I am very much pleased to learn that you are starting to set up a county-wide library system in Navarro county. I cannot commend you too highly in this forward step. In my opinion nothing will improve the county schools more than adequate library service. This, incidentally, is one of the greatest needs of the Navarro Countp schools. Through a county library teachers and pupils will have access to better books and the pupils will develop the habit of good reading.

"The State Department of Education joins me in wishing for you the greatest success in this enterprise and pledging for you our fullest co-operation,

"Sincerely yours."

HEALTH, BEAUTY AND POISE

HOW TO IMPROVE YOUR PERSONALITY

By VERONICA DENGEL

SLIM LEGS FOR SHORT SKIRTS

With short—and shorter—skirts, there is a great demand for slimmer legs. The bumps that used to be over-looked are right out in the open. So let's see what we can do about them. Exercise such as I have given you from time to time are most helpful. Look back over your newspaper file for the one which will suit your needs. And massage is splendid. Of course, the best way is to have the work done by an expert who will manipulate and mold the flesh and stir up the circulation so that the fatty deposits will be carried off. The real value in massage in reducing work is just this, because the weight is more evenly distributed and has a better chance to be burned up at a more normal rate during the day's activities.

However, if it is not possible to indulge in the luxury of a masseuse—why, be your own. This is not possible all over the body, but for local work on the legs, it can be quite effective. Put a tiny bit of cream on the legs. It must be just a tiny bit, or the hands will slip instead of grip! Now pick up the fatty spot and knead it with the fingers. Then grasp the leg between the hands and twist the flesh firmly—but be careful not to pinch or you will bruise yourself. Five or ten minutes work on each leg daily for a few weeks will show definite results, but you must be faithful. Always finish off your massage with a little alcohol or tonic, and pat it dry very briskly with a sort of sharp cupping movement.

Knead the fatty spot

YOUNG PILOT TELLS OF ATTACKING AND SINKING SUBMARINE

LONDON, Sept. 18—(AP)—A young South African Royal Air force pilot told tonight, through the British ministry of information how a German submarine was blown to the surface by his bombs before it sank.

Neither the pilot nor the scene of the battle was identified by the ministry.

Returning on his first submarine patrol flight, the pilot said:

"I sighted a submarine on the surface about two miles away traveling pretty fast—about 12 knots—in an easterly direction.

"I took cover in a cloud in order to approach the submarine from astern."

The pilot said he came out of the cloud at 1,500 feet and, identifying the submarine as German, opened fire at 500 feet at a man on the conning tower.

"The man x x x disappeared and the submarine started to dive," he continued.

"By the time I dropped my first salvo of bombs, the nearest of which hit the water 15 or 20 yards directly ahead of the submarine, the submarine was half under water. The explosion blew her back to the surface.

"The nearest bomb of my second salvo was a direct hit on the submarine's portside and there was a colossal explosion and her whole stern lifted out of the water. She dived into the sea at an angle of 30 degrees."

France Gets First Sub.

PARIS, Sept. 18.—(AP)—France reported tonight it had sunk her first enemy submarine since war was declared against Germany.

A general staff communique reported the attack on the submarine was carried out "with success."

The communique indicated the only action on the western front today consisted of artillery bombardment concentrating in the Saarbruecken sector.

WAR BRINGS ADDED ASSOCIATED PRESS LEASED WIRE NEWS

DALLAS, Sept. 18.—(AP)—More than 500 extra hours of leased wire news service were received by Associated Press member newspapers in Texas during the first two weeks of the European war.

Texas newspapers obtained this additional service to provide fullest possible coverage of events at home and in Europe. Some smaller papers more than doubled their regular wire facilities. Others have arranged for full 24-hour leased wire service for an indefinite period.

Larger papers continue to be served day and night by from four to ten leased wires.

Inaugurating a new leased wire route between Texas and Mexico City Friday, greater exchange of news between Southwestern states and Mexico was made possible.

Texas interest in football is undiminished despite European events. A special wire exclusively for results and description of Southwestern conference, Old South and National games has been arranged by Associated Press member newspapers in the larger cities of Texas.

This service will start with the opening of the Southwestern conference schedules.

STOCK MARKET WAS DEPRESSED MONDAY BY PEACE FRIGHT

LEADING STOCKS SLUMPED OFF FROM ONE TO NEAR SEVEN POINTS

By VICTOR EUBANK

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The stock market suffered a "peace fright" today and leading stocks toppled 1 to around 7 points, the worst setback since the start of the war boom nearly three weeks ago.

Selling was fast in the first hour, slowed down on intermediate recovery periods, and picked up again just before the finish when the ticker tape got behind. Closing prices were about the lows of the day.

Steels led the forenoon retreat, but these received a little aid later when the American Iron & Steel Institute announced mill operations this week would be up 9.1 points at 79.3 per cent of capacity, highest level in more than two years. It was a bit better increase than had been looked for.

Touching off the initial backslide in stocks, brokers said, was Wall Street's view of European happenings over the week-end. Speculative forces began to think an armistice proposal by Hitler or Mussolini, or even Stalin, might be in the offing. Consequently, those who had been betting on a long conflict, with big profits reverting to American companies from foreign purchasing, hurried to lighten commitments.

Part of the early selling was blamed on the belief of some financial circles that one of the most spectacular rallies in the market's history called for a sizeable "correction," even if the run-up eventually is resumed. Possibility of a forthcoming bitter congressional battle on the neutrality law also was seen as a restraining influence.

Transfers approximated 1,800,000 shares.

Conspicuous losers included U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Anaconda, International Nickel, Westinghouse, Du-Pont, Standard Oil of N. J., Western Union, J. I. Case, International Harvester, Douglas Aircraft, Allied Chemical, Glenn Martin, Montgomery Ward and American Telephone.

Rails held fairly well.

Foreign dollar bonds weakened, but corporate issues and U. S. governments were less depressed than stocks. Securities at Amsterdam went into a slump. Commodities took the downward path.

GARNER AND RAYBURN LEAVE FOR CAPITAL AND CALL SESSION

DALLAS, Sept. 18—(AP)—Two key figures in the called session of congress, Vice President John N. Garner and Congressman Sam P. Rayburn, left for Washington today.

Garner, accompanied by Mrs. Garner, motored from his Uvalde home to San Antonio yesterday, thence by rail to the capital. As usual, he declined comment on national affairs.

Rayburn, house majority leader, made the last of several addresses in Texas last night at a constitution day celebration here where he declared in favor of amending the present neutrality law.

He pledged every effort to keep this nation out of war.

Rayburn did not touch on the European conflict directly, but in his plea for strong national defense measures, he said no one could tell when a madman might rise to great power, nor what he would do when he got there.

Garner Non-Committal

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 18.—(AP)—"Well, it's kinda cool in this air-conditioned car."

Thus spoke Vice President John N. Garner this morning when questioned about affairs of state as he awaited departure of his train for Washington.

Jovial, but non-committal, the vice president chatted with friends.

As to whether congress would repeal the present arms embargo act, the vice president had "no comment." The Garners arrived here from Uvalde by automobile.

Nazis and Soviets Meet Monday In Brest-Litovsk

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The Nazi swastika and the Russian hammer and sickle met today in the fallen Polish city of Brest-Litovsk where Russian revolutionists and Germans signed their separate peace in the World war.

The Soviet Russians came in from the east, according to German advices from the front, and shook hands with German officers at the head of troops who completed the conquest of Brest-Litovsk, 105 miles east of Warsaw, yesterday.

German and Russian officers were said tonight to be engaged in fixing a line beyond which their respective forces would not go in Poland.

DNB (German official news agency) meanwhile reported the German military had resumed its effort to force Warsaw's surrender.

RICHLAND MAN'S BROTHER, FORMER CORSICANAN, DIES

RICHLAND, Sept. 18.—(Spl.)—J. W. Garland received a message Wednesday afternoon that that his brother, Walter Garland, Sr., had passed away suddenly at his home in Fort Worth. This death came as a shock, although he had been in bad health several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Garland and son, Joegene, left Thursday morning for Fort Worth to be with his family and attend the funeral Friday morning at 10 o'clock. They returned home Friday afternoon, accompanied by another brother, Dr. and Mrs. F. R. Dunn, and little son for a short visit before returning to their home in Palestine.

Hiway Patrolmen Find Abandoned Puppies on Road

Seven little hungry, flea-bitten puppies on Highway 22, two miles west of Corsicana were found by two friends Monday.

As a result, the puppies were taken to Blooming Grove, flea powders were utilized to rid them of their tormentors, and they were treated to a sumptous feed of ground meat. To make it a further red-letter day in the lives of the seven little puppies, each were found homes in Blooming Grove.

The little dogs apparently had been "dropped" alongside the highway by someone who did not longer desire them, to be probably killed. They were found, carried to Blooming Grove, fed and "de-flead" by State Highway Patrolmen Hammett Vance and M. R. Reid, whose business it is to enforce highway laws, aid those in distress.

INTIMATED ARMS WERE LOADED ON AMERICAN TRADER

SIXTY-ONE SEAMEN BEING TRIED FOR STRIKING FOR WAR BONUS

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(AP)—John Masek, an ordinary seaman on the United States liner American Trader, testified today at the trial of striking shipmates that he saw what he thought was ammunition being loaded on the vessel for transportation to Europe.

Masek was called by William L. Standard, attorney for the National Maritime Union (CIO) and counsel for 61 seamen charged with refusing to take the ship out without a war bonus.

Trial Examiner Karl Nielsen, of the Bureau of Marine inspection and navigation, before whom the trial is being held, asked Masek what roused his suspicions.

"As I was going near No. 1 hatch," Masek said, "I happened to look down and saw a lot of little boxes about one foot square, maybe a little smaller. They had callbre marks on them. I remember saying to another guy, 'I'm pretty sure that's ammunition. It's pretty dangerous taking it over at a time like this.'

"I've seen ammunition on this boat before, and I know what it looks like. I've seen a number of shell boxes, and I know them when I see them."

Captain Nielsen questioned Masek closely, apparently trying to determine if the seaman might be mistaken.

"We want to be sure about this before we have to call in the Federal Bureau of Investigation," Capt. Nielsen said.

Knew Nothing

The skipper of the ship, Captain Harold Milde, previously had testified he knew nothing of the contents of a truck, bearing the legend "Winchester Arms," which contents were said to have been stowed away in a forward part of the ship.

Walter Bowers, an able-bodied seaman, testified he did not actually see ammunition being loaded aboard the American Trader, but had seen the boxes being removed from the truck and placed on skids and taken down the pier.

The American Trader is one of seven American ships held here by striking seamen after they had been scheduled to go to Europe to bring back stranded Americans.

The union announced it had reduced its war bonus demand from $250 to $150 and, pending action by the special session of congress, had waived the demand for $25,000 war risk insurance.

Maritime men foresaw the possibility of intervention by President Roosevelt if the four-day strike is not settled soon. The president could order the U. S. Marine Commission to "requisition the ships and operate them as government vessels.

FRENCH OFFICIALS TOOK PASSENGERS OFF AMERICAN SHIP

STATE DEPARTMENT SAYS NO ACTION TO BE TAKEN; GERMAN CITIZENS

BOSTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Carrying 172 passengers, 40 more than her usual complement, the American export liner Exochorda arrived today from Mediterranean ports with news French authorities at Marseilles had seized two passengers—one the German husband of an American citizen—for war-time internment.

Captain Wenzel Habel said one of two Germans removed was Joseph Wagner, 39, construction engineer for an oil firm (Kellogg), Wagner's wife, a Memphis, Texas, resident, was not disturbed by the French. She sent radiograms to U. S. Ambassador Bullitt at Paris and the U. S. consul at Marseilles asking aid.

The second passenger seized was a 17-year old youth known only by the last name of Wallenberger, who boarded the vessel with Wagner at Haifa on Aug. 28. He was to join relatives at New York.

Captain Habel said he protested the removal of the two men, but was overruled by a French admiral who "demanded" their arrest. Wagner was said to have lived intermittently in the United States for 26 years and to have obtained first papers for U. S. citizenship.

Wagner left this country last November and was joined by his wife in Palestine last July.

Captain Habel said all but 21 of his passengers were American citizens.

Will Take No Action.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—It was said unofficially today the state department would take no action on the arrest at Marseilles, France, of Joseph Wagner, a German citizen who has been working in the United States.

John P. Hurley, consul general at Marseilles, reported the arrest of Wagner, a passenger aboard the American liner Exochorda. Investigation by the department disclosed Wagner is still a German citizen.

BALKANS WATCHING SOVIET INVASION WITH MIXED FEELING

RUMANIA BELIEVED IN MOST PRECARIOUS POSITION AT PRESENT

BUDAPEST, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Soviet Russia's swift thrust into Poland was watched today with fear and hope by heavily-armed neutral nations of southeastern Europe at odds over their problems of transplanted minorities and disputed territories.

Questions were asked immediately in each capital whether Russia's military move to 'protect' once-Russian minorities in eastern Poland would jeopardize or enhance their chances to hold or regain land won or lost in World War treaties.

At stake are vast areas, a wealth of resources and the fate of 10,000,000 people who live in lands outside the nations whose tongues they speak.

In Bulgaria, the Soviet action was hailed widely as reviving hope for a forced revision of World War boundaries.

The opinion was expressed at Sofia that fast-moving events might put Bulgaria in a position to regain the rich Dobrudja section along the Black Sea where 250,000 Bulgars live under the Rumanian flag.

In Rumania, a spokesman for Foreign Minister Grigore Gafencu said the Russian minister had given assurances the Soviet Union would continue to respect Rumania's territorial integrity.

Some observers said Rumania was in the most precarious position of the southeastern nations.

Rumania has two territorial worries. Fear has been expressed Russia may try to take back the Bessarabia—rich land south of the Russian Ukraine—in which 500,000 Ukrainians and 415,000 Ruthenians live.

There is concern, also, over what effect the new move might have on Hungary's desire for the return of Transylvania, where there are 1,300,000 Magyars.

Foreign Minister Stefan Csaky of Hungary made it clear his country has not forgotten Transylvania when he said last week the question involving this section was "serious."

Meanwhile, Hungary's desire is complicated by the thought that return of Transylvania might find Hungary with Russia as a neighbor just across the frontier.

Since Hungary's Bolshevist revolution after the World War, Budapest's short-lived communist regime and the bitter counter-revolution of 1919, there has been strong opposition to anything communistic.

In Turkey, where it had been reported that Foreign Minister Sukru Saracoglu was preparing to go to Moscow to discuss a friendship pact between Russia and Turkey, there was no official comment.

Observers there said that despite Turkey's mutual assistance pact with Britain and France, there was a desire for continued warm friendship with the Soviet, whose troops are massed along her frontiers.

Diplomats in Yugoslavia looked toward Italy for some move that might prevent the spread of war.

The only word from Greece was announcement of a new conscription law.

Court Martial of Bergdoll Adjourns Until Sept. 27th

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The court-martial of Grover Cleveland Bergdoll, World war draft dodger, was adjourned today until September 27.

The delay was announced shortly after the court convened on Governors Island.

The adjustment was requested by Major George A. Hadd, military counsel for Bergdoll, who explained that since the charges of conspiracy to desert and desertion had been drawn up, he had not had time to prepare an adequate defense.

Prosecuting counsel made no objection.

Earlier Federal Judge Alfred C. Coxe had refused to delay the court-martial, pending argument on a writ of habeas corpus.

The court-martial convened this morning but was adjourned because Bergdoll's counsel, Harry Weinberger, had produced an order requiring the government show cause why the proceedings should not be delayed.

When Judge Coxe announced his decision army officials said the court-martial proceedings would begin at noon (CST.)

Weinberger, in opposing the court-martial, contended Bergdoll never was a member of the armed forces of the United States.

Bergdoll is to be tried by court-martial on chorges of conspiracy to desert and desertion.

Against Germans Says Commander Of Soviet Tank

CERNAUTI, Rumania, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Maj. William H. Colbern, United States military attache, said today the commander of a Soviet Russian tank he encountered in Poland told him the Russians were "against the Germans."

Maj. Colbert, who has been in Poland as a military observer, said that yesterday he saw a column of 11-ton tanks on the road to Horodenka, about 40 miles northwest of here, going in the same direction as some Polish troops.

One of them pulled aside, told him to halt and Soviet officer came out. Maj. Colbert said he was cordial and polite. Colbern later talked to the tank commander and quoted the officer as saying "we are against the Germans."

Maj. Colbert said the Polish troops fraternized with the Russians and gave them cigarettes.

STATE DEPARTMENT SEEKS ADDITIONAL FACTS ON ATHENIA

TWENTY-EIGHT AMERICANS ON ILL-FATED SHIP STILL UNACCOUNTED FOR

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The state department, disclosing that 28 Americans believed to have been on the British steamer Athenia were still unaccounted for, sought further information today about the sinking of the ship before taking diplomatic action.

American survivors of the disaster and members of the Athenia crew have testified the steamer was torpedoed by a submarine. German officials have denied any of their U-boats was responsible, however, and the department would like to have all available information bearing upon the attacking vessel's identity before drafting any protest.

Well informed persons said a report of the British admiralty would be studied in addition to reports already received and made public here from John Cudahy, United States minister to Ireland, and American naval attaches at London.

Officials declined to indicate what diplomatic course they had in mind. There was speculation, however, that if definite evidence as to the identify of the submarine were not forthcoming, the government might issue a general statement calling attention to treaty rules of submarine warfare and serving notice the United States expected compliance with those rules.

In its announcement 28 Americans believed to have been aboard the Athenia were still missing, the state department said it was posible that some of those listed might have been rescued and had failed to communicate with officials.

FRENCH FORTRESS TROOPS REPORTED AS MAKING GAIN

IN BITTER FIGHTING FRENCH CAPTURE HEIGHTS COMMANDING FELSBERG

BASEL, Switzerland, Sept. 18.—(AP)—French fortress troops were reported today to have gained and held positions less than three miles from the German border town of Saarlautern during a series of night operations.

Advices reaching Switzerland said that while the Germans concentrated on attacking French lines on a ridge 10 miles north of Saarlautern, the French in the Bouzonville-Bedersdorf secton struck suddenly at the hills before the town itself.

The fighting centered around the junction of the Saarlautern-Bouzonville and Saarlautern-Boulay highways.

In brief though bitter fighting the French were said to have captured the heights from which their macine guns commanded the town of Felsberg and its railroad station on a branch line from Saarlautern.

French light artillery in this section already held under its fire Saarlautern, birthplace of the famed Napoleonic commander, Marshall Ney.

On the northwest, along the Moselle river, the German attacks were reported to have subsided, leaving the French substantially in the same positions they held before.

East of Saarbrucken, however, reports reaching Basel indicated the Germans had recaptured a number of positions which relieved French pressure on the Saar capital from that area.

Fighting in the Zweibrueken-Pirmasens sector died down somewhat during the night, while in the Vosgas area action was limited to artillery ruels, these reports said.

The Rhine front has been so quiet since the war began that Basel shipping interests have started a move to resume Rhine river shipping for neutral states.

Basel merchants, shippers and wholesalers alike were hit by the sudden halt in Rhine river traffic.

Four Dead After Kentucky Roadside Inn Gun Battle

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 18.—(AP)—A tavern gun battle which Sheriff Julius B. Daniels said he believed was started by a mountain "vengeance" quarrel left four men dead today.

The sheriff said he found three of the victims dead or dying when he arrived at the roadside inn after the shooting Saturday night.

They were Sambo Nelson, 50, owner of the tavern; Fred Adams, 60, a deputy sheriff, and William Fannin, 28. Fannin's brother, Hobart, about 22, died of wounds in a hospital yesterday.

Nelson's wife and son, John, 19, were wounded slightly in the exchange of approximately 45 pistol shots.

Sheriff Daniels said he was holding Eddie Sammons, a former constable, on a murder charge.

Sammons arrested William Fannin on a rape charge more than two years ago, the sheriff said, and the two men met Saturday night for the first time since Fannin completed serving a penitentiary sentence recently.

The gunfight started, Daniels continued, when Fannin struck Sammons on the head with a pistol and Deputy Sheriff Adams, a witness, sought to arrest Fannin.

WACO AND CLEBURNE PLAY FIRST TILTS FRIDAY EVENING

CORSICANA WILL ENTERTAIN THE ENNIS LIONS ON TIGER FIELD

Several interesting skirmishes involving District 10-AA elevens will be unreeled this week-end following several thrillers last week-end. None will be conference attractions.

Cleburne and Waco, the two clubs generally regarded as the main contenders with Corsicana, will swing into action this week-end. Corsicana demonstrated that the Bengals will be in the thick of the fight for the title last week with a 37-7 decision over an inexperienced Highland Park crew. Bryan Broncs, looked at as possible "dark horse" contenders, caused considerable speculation and respect when they invaded Beaumont and emerged with a 19-6 victory over the highly-touted Royal Purple eleven.

Ennis Is Strong

Waxahachie dropped a 16-6 decision at the hands of the strong Ennis Lions, class A team, but that was not an unexpected result as Waxahachie is not so powerful while Ennis boasts of perhaps the strongest club in its history. Hillsboro was somewhat disappointing from an offensive viewpoint with a scoreless tie played at Hillsboro against an invading Denton team.

This week's headliner will be Waco vs. Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) at Dallas. Woodrow Wilson is regarded as one of the top-notch Dallas teams. Waco is always a strong contender for the district race. Waco lost many of the veterans in the line, but has a flock of real backs and line replacements.

Corsicana meets the cocky and versatile Ennis Lions in an important local attraction.

Cleburne plays the Olney combination while Waxahachie is expected to take another drubbing when they invade Mexia. Brenham, another strong class A club, will match prowess with the Bryan Broncs at Bryan. The Broncs should have little difficulty in that melee after downing Beaumont this week.

Eagles Are Underdogs

Hillsboro is slated to be the underdog Saturday night at Hillsboro when the North Dallas Bulldogs invade the Hill county capital.

Cleburne should have little difficulty with the Olney crew as the Loving county representatives were outclassed, 27-6, by Gainesville last week-end.

Bones Sanders Will Leave to Join Tour In South America

Bones Sanders, first-sacker with the Amarillo club of the West Texas-New Mexico league the past summer, well-known Corsicanan, is scheduled to leave Corsicana Tuesday for New York City where he will sail for South America to play in an exhibition baseball tour for several weeks.

Neal Rabe, catcher and former manager of the Amarillo crew, is in charge of the exhibition trip. He formerly played with Corsicana baseball outfits.

Sanders was selected by the sports writers of the league on the all-star club for the 1939 season. Since his recent return to Corsicana, he has played with the Corsicana Cotton Millers in the county baseball league. He was the Miller firstsacker early in the spring when he signed with Amarillo.

Surprise Shower Is Given For Recent Bride on Saturday

Misses Maxine Blumrosen and Betty Humphries were joint hostesses Saturday at the home of the former, 1902 West Seventh avenue, at a surprise miscellaneous shower in compliment to Miss Humphries' sister-in-law, Mrs. Joe Humphries, who was before her marriage last Monday, Miss Dorothy Mae Tate, daughter of Mrs Jackie Tate.

Upon her arrival she found some 20 or more of her close friends assembled in the attractive living room, and a table piled high with lovely and useful gifts.

In the telegram contest in which only the letters of the words "Tate" and "Joe" were to be used, Miss Lillian Davidson won the prize for the best, which she presented the honoree.

After the gifts had been opened and admired by all, the hostesses served fruit punch and assorted cookies.

District 21-B Teams Open Hostilities Friday Afternoon

District 21-B, Interscholastic league, opens the season this week with one conference game and six non-conference tilts.

In the only tussle unreeled last week-end, the Itasca Wampus Cats defeated the Hubbard Jaguars, 12-0, at Itasca. Hubbard was the runner-up club in 1938.

Trinidad invaded Mildred Friday afternoon in a conference battle.

Non-conferece tilts iclude:

Frost at Hubbard.

Italy at Grand Prairie.

Dawson at Ennis (B) team (Thursday).

Mt. Calm at Blooming Grove.

Abbott at Grandview, night.

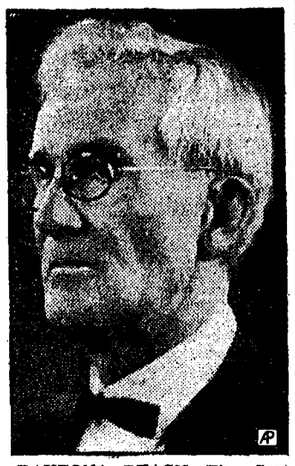

Maypearl at Milford.

Kerens, defending champion, will likely play a practice game, but the opponent was not known here early this week.

OIL MATTERS

Texas fields except East Texas would be to do away with a "racket" in exemptions. Many wells have been exempted from the two-day shutdowns ostensibly because of special operating conditions, such as heavy water production or high pressures.

It would be impossible to place East Texas on full-time production, he said, because of a new formula under which production of the field is allocated.

Texas' current production is approximately 1,400,000 barrels daily, 8,000 barrels below the Bureau of Mines estimate of demand, Sadler said.

Later Ernest Thompson, third commission member, said he heartily concurred in the idea of eliminating Saturday and Sunday shutdowns but retaining five-day production allowables.

The commission announced a hearing for Sept. 25 in Austin on whether the allowable of the McFadden, Keeran, Greta and Heyser fields in Civtoria, Refugio and Calhoun counties should be increased.

A hearing on Sept. 27 on spacing and allocation rules for the Magnet field in Wharton county also was announced.

FRENCH

close to the Rumanian frontier where they would have a channel for Russia to send Germany supplies for her war in the west.

Informed sources here regard the entry of Russia into Poland a blow to neutrality of small states of southeastern Europe.

They consider Rumania particularly endangered because she holds territory once belonging to Russia. Should the conflict spread to the Balkans, these sources expect a quick reaction from Turkey.

In some French quarters also it is believed the Russian action may bring the official policy of Italy—still on the sidelines although a military ally of Germany—into sharper focus.

The French army now firmly holds the left bank of the Saar river from the German border city of Saarguemines, where the river enters Germany, to Meizig, where it nears Luxembourg.

The French reported fighting off numerous flanking movements attempted by the Germany infantry to gain summits overlooking Saarbruecken and Saarlautern—two important objectives in German territory.

Thus, the French dominate the whole Saar valley, rich industrial region which they have said more than offsets German mineral gains in the conquest of Polish Silesia.

The French also have thrown out a cordon threatening the right bank of the Saar river which they control from that side to Saarbruecken itself.

French troops indicated an aim to gain Saarlautern and Saarbruecken virtually intact, although they said German artillery was threatening destruction of both.

Night Was Calm.

In a communique issued this morning, the French general staff reported the night had been calm along the entire front, with only local advance guard actions. The communique did not designate the sectors where the skirmishes occurred.

Meanwhile, to balance German reinforcements the French doubled their own defensive lines.

French patrols reported the last German troops had moved out of Saarbrucken. They said the Nazis had blown up bridges and railway lines to the north as they retired to new outposts before Dudweiler, several thousand yards away.

Reports from the front said the Germans were bringing up whole squadrons of warplanes from Poland as well as ground troops.

The French said they had broken a German attack on the Nied river near the Luxembourg frontier in some of the fiercest fighting of the war.

Convicted of Espionage.

NANCY, France, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Martin Thelen, 44-year old German, was sentenced to life imprisonment today after being convicted in a military court of espionage in the Maginot line region.

RUSSIA

terday, Moscow informed Poland's allies, Britain and France, the Soviet Union would follow a neutral policy toward them.

In a radio broadcast by Premier-Foreign Comissar Vyacheslaff Molotoff and in his notes to 24 governments represented in Moscow, crossing of the frontier was described as necessary to protect once-Russian minorities in Eastern Poland.

Molotoff said the Polish government "ceased to exist," and the minorities—11,000,000 White Russians and Ukrainians—were "abandoned entirely to their fate."

Claim Jubilant Welcome

A Russian broadcast said red army troops had been given jubilant welcomes by the population of White Russia and in the Polish Ukraine.

It made no mention of fighting, although the radio last night acknowledged the Poles were putting up resistance.

The red army advance was reported general along a 500-mile frontier between Latvia on the north and Rumania on the south.

Russians said they took Glebokie, northeast of Wilno; Baranowicze, railway center 50 miles from the frontier; Dubno, northeast of Lwow, and Tarnopol, in the Ukrainian sector southeast of Lwow.

That would place the Russian and German armies within 68 miles of each other. That is the distance from Dubno to Wlodzimierz, reported held by German troops north of Lwow.

Advance guards of the two forces would be even closer southeast of Lwow. German mechanized units were reported to have crossed a railway southeast of Lwow. Russian advance troops were said to be in Tarnopol, within 50 miles of the railroad.

Nazi Air Raids Aid Soviets

At Baranowicze, German planes and Russian troops struck at the same objective. The Russian general staff announced the capture after Russian and German radio broadcasts told of heavy German air raids against the city.

A general staff communique said the Russians defeated several "weak advance units and reserves of the Polish army" at points where there was resistance.

The general staff said ten Polish warplanes were brought down.

Invasion from the East, reported started yesterday at 6 a. m. (9 p. m. CST, Saturday), came two days after Russia and Japan called an armistice along the border of Soviet-controlled outer Mongolia and Japanese-dominated Manchouquo.

Extent of the territory Russia intends to occupy was not disclosed.

The master of the American rescue ship said the British survivors had cheered the U-boat commander and praised him for "very humane" treatment, particularly his offer to tow them toward Ireland, if they were not picked up quickly.

Americans Are Delayed.

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The Holland-American liner Nieuw Amsterdam, scheduled to depart for New York tonight with 1,200 passengers, mostly Americans fleeing the war zone, was held in port today "until further notice" as the crew demanded higher pay for plying dangerous waters.

Sept. 18, 1914—French warfare begins on western front. Germans bombard Reims and damage cathedral.

Bond Registration Withdrawal.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The German government asked withdrawal today of a regestration statement for $72,000,000 worth of funding bonds, which the securities commission had questioned.

The request was received by the SEC at the opening of a hearing this morning to determine whether the commission should permit Germany to issue the bonds.

A telegram from Hans Borchers German consul general in New York, said withdrawal was sought "in view of the state of war existing in Europe."

Air Rail Alarm False.

LONDON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Hundreds of persons were roused from sleep early today by an air raid warnnig from Southall, Middlesex.

Officials said the siren sounded as "the result of a technical defect."

Vatican Blasts Soviets.

VATICAN CITY, Sept. 18.—(AP)—The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano today denounced Soviet Russia's invasion of Poland as "an uncourageous gesture" on an "untrue pretext."

Polish embassy here that Russia violated the Polish frontier by an "act of direct aggression."

It was stated authoritatively Britain had a brief report from her ambassador to Moscow, Sir William Seeds, but was waiting fuller information.

Complicating the situation was the Soviet government's declaration it would pursue a policy of neutrality with Britain.

The cabinet was expected to decide today whether parliament should be called before its scheduled meeting Wednesday.

The British press, meanwhile, vigorously attacked Russia for what it called the "stab in the back" and the "betrayal" of Poland.

The authoritative Times, which often reflects government views, said:

"To the Soviet belongs the base and despicabel share of accessory before and after the crime and the contempt which even the thief has for a receiver who shares none of his original risks."

The Daily Mail, under the heading, "Betrayal," said:

"This act of treachery is a serious blow to the allies. But Britain can take hard knocks, she is used to them. Every big war in which we were ever engaged has begun badly for us—but it has ended far more badly for our enemies."

Tears Up Her Treaty.

The Daily Herald declared Soviet Russia "follows the example of her Nazi ally and tears up her treaty as she hurries to the field of plunder."

Some sections of the press saw Russia's invasion of Poland as a forerunner of further acts of aggression in conjunction with Germany.

"It may be that with Poland crushed between her two enemies," the Daily Express said, "Rumania will be called upon by Russia to disgorge Bessarabia.

"This district was cut away from Russia and taken by Rumania at the end of the last war.

"Then, as an additional price for her intervention in the Polish war, Russia may have extracted a promise from ermany for a free han din the Baltis."

GERMANY

messages to the Warsaw commander which all Europe could hear last night, gave instructions as to the manner in which Polish emissaries were to leave the capital to meet the German commander.

The message was repeated numerous times, both in Polish and in German, and the Poles were asked to respond by radio.

The high command reported the defenders had agreed to dispatch emissaries to the German lines, but no response was heard here over the ordinary wavelengths.

Government officials here said the German army was solicitous over Warsaw's civilian population and that the city would be bombarded only as a last resort to smash remaining military opposition.

In view of the fact no effective military resistance appeared to remain, German leaders said they would exercise patience with the object of occupying the city with the least possible bloodshed.

"With an obstinate government, which would not recognize the facts, already fled, "one official said, 'there is no purpose in smashing Warsaw. Our first consideration is the civilian population."

German forces encircling Warsaw are so powerful, official circles said, they would have little difficulty in virtually destroying the capital, if they wished to apply pressure.

History Being Turned Out

"You are seeing history being turned out with assembly line efficiency," one foreign office spokesman declared.

Possibly significant in this connection were repeated German radio assertions today that "the peoples in Africa and Asia now dominated by England await the day of final settlement of their score with the British empire."

"It's Warsaw today, but the story is by no means finished,' an informed spokesman said.

Another asked why England has not declared war on Russia in view of the Soviet advance into Poland.

German leaders regard the complete collapse of Poland as an inevitable development that may come within a matter of hours.

Two other Polish strongholds were reported to have fallen yesterday simultaneously with Kutno, 57 miles west of beleaguered Warsaw.

These were Deblin, 70 miles southeast of the capital, and Brest-Litovsk, 100 miles due east, where 600 prisoners were said to have been taken.

Detailed reports on the western front were lacking, although the high command reported heavy losses had been inflicted on the French, and there had been local engagements near Zweibruecken.

Seek to Force Surrender Warsaw

BERLIN, Sept. 18.—(AP)—DNB (German official news agency) reported tonight the German military effort to force Warsaw to surrender had been resumed after failure of Poles to negotiate for withdrawal of the city's inhabitants. It was not stated whether the beleaguered capital was being shelled.

NEUTRALITY

al leaders rather than political leaders.

The presidential secretary said the meeting would begin at 2 p. m. (CST) Wednesday and that Secretary Hull also would sit in, probably as the only cabinet member.

Early replied with a firm "no" to a question about whether the decision to ask Landon and Knox, the republican presidential and vice presidential candidates in 1936, might be interpreted as a move in the direction of coalition or bi-partisan action.

Mr. Roosevelt continued conversations on the international situation by telephone, over the week-end, Early said, but has not yet touched pencil to paper on his message to congress for next Thursday.

Asked whether neutrality act restrictions might be applied to Russia, in view of her action in sending troops into Poland, Early said he hod not heard it mentioned.

Plan To Organize Senate Republicans

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Friends of Senators Borah (R-Idaho) and Nye (R-ND) predicted today they would seek to align senate republicans as a group against President Roosevelt's proposal to repeal the embargo against arms shipments to warring nations.

Although the senators were silent, persons close to them said there was no doubt they would try to obtain an endorsement, from a majority at a party conference, of their stand for retention of the embargo.

Borah and Nye contend the sale of arms to France and Great Britain would be the first step toward eventual involvement of this country in war.

The two senators were represented as believing they could convince most of their colleagues they would be doing the patriotic thing to oppose the president's program.

They were likely to meet opposition, however, from Senators Austin of Vermont, the assistant republican leader, and Taft of Ohio, both of whom have declared for repeal of the embargo.

The fight against repeal was carried on yesterday by another republican, Senator Johnson of California.

In a statement issued at San Francisco, Johnson said the president had warned the nation in an address in 1936 that, in the event of war in another country, it would require the "unswerving support of all Americans" to resist the clamor for "fools' gold" from the conflict.

"I take my stand with the Roosevelt of 1936, not with the Roosevelt of 1939," the Californian added. "We are marching in the shadow now—down the road to war."

Johnson centended repeal of the embargo would make this country a partisan economically in the fighting in Europe.

"It is but a step," he continued, "from our economic favoritism to enlistment of our manpower."

Jap Fliers to Miami.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Japan's good-will fliers left here at 5:10 a. m. (CST) today for Miami, Fla.

TOKYO, Sept. 18. — (AP) — The newspaper Kokumin, considered pro-army, declared today that "should the United States strengthen her present policy it can be supposed that Japan would be compelled to assert her right of existence."

The article accused the United States of intending to become ruler of the old order in East Asia now that Great Britain has become occupied with war in Europe. It forsaw the United States stiffening "acts of pressure."

TOPEKA, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Former Gov. Alf M. Landon will leave for Washington tonight, "glad" of the opportunity to confer with President Roosevelt "in this serious situation."

The former governor declined comment on revision of the neutrality act.

"I don't think it would be proper to say anything at this time, when the president has called us to Washington fo ran exchange to Washington for an exchange

GENERAL WAR

In southeast Europe by Moscow's move. Bulgaria hoped it might lead eventually toward restoring to her territory lost in the world war. Conflicting desires for territory and fears of Russia were felt in Hungary.

Diplomats in Yugoslavia looked to Italy for some move which might prevent the spread of war.

Rumania's position was complicated by the presence of huge numbers of Polish refugees, officials and military units on her soil. The soldiers were disarmed, President Moscicki and Foreign Minister Beck were reported planning to take their government to London.

Italy remained enigmatic concerning her plans. Talk continued in capitals of other nations, however, that Premier Mussolini would propose a truce when he considered the time ripe.

negotiations tomorrow on an armistice along the frontier between outer Mongolia and Manchoukuo.

A Japanese spokesman said he expected the new border "peace" to lead to settlement of other Russian-Japanese border disputes, but that a nonaggression pact was "not under consideration."

Japan Resumes Attacks

HONGKONG, Sept. 18.—(AP)—Reports from Chinese army headquarters in Kiangsi province reported resistance today to powerful, artillery-prepared Japanese attacks 25 miles southwest of Hanchang.

The reports did not indicate whether the end of a six-months lull on this front was regarded as the forerunner of a renewed major Japanese offensive.
